

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, 18th December, 1845.

[Confidential.]

To the Senate of the United States :

I herewith communicate to the Senate, for its consideration, a convention signed on the 14th May, of the present year, by the minister of the United States at Berlin, with the minister of Saxony at the same court, for the mutual abolition of the droit d'aubaine, droit de détraction, and taxes on emigration, between the United States and Saxony. And I communicate with the convention an explanatory dispatch of the minister of the United States, dated on the 14th May, 1845, and numbered 267.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, December 15th, 1845.

[Confidential.]

To the Senate of the United States :

I herewith communicate to the Senate, for its consideration, a convention concluded and signed at Berlin on the 29th day of January, 1845, between the United States and Prussia, together with certain other German states, for the mutual extradition of fugitives from justice in certain cases; and I communicate with the convention the correspondence necessary to explain it.

In submitting this convention to the Senate, I deem it proper to call their attention to the third article, by which it is stipulated that "none of the contracting parties shall be bound to deliver up its own citizens or subjects under the stipulations of this convention."

No such reservation is to be found in our treaties of extradition with Great Britain and France, the only two nations with whom we have concluded such treaties. These provide for the surrender of all persons who are fugitives from justice without regard to the country to which they may belong. Under this article if German subjects of any of the parties to the convention should commit crimes within the United States and fly back to their native country from justice they would not be surrendered. This is clear in regard to all such Germans as shall not have been naturalized under our laws. But even after naturalization difficult and embarrassing questions might arise between the parties. These German powers, holding the doctrine of perpetual allegiance, might refuse to surrender German naturalized citizens, whilst we must ever maintain the principle that the rights and duties of such citizens are the same as if they had been born in the United States.

I would also observe that the 4th article of the treaty submitted contains a provision not to be found in our conventions with Great Britain and France.

WASHINGTON, 12th January, 1846.

To the Senate of the United States :

I nominate the persons named in the accompanying list of promotions and appointments in the Army of the United States to the several grades annexed to their names, as proposed by the Secretary of War.

JAMES K. POLK,

WASHINGTON, January 12, 1846.

WAR DEPARTMENT, January 8, 1846.

To the President of the United States :

SIR: I have the honor, respectfully, to propose for your approbation the annexed list of officers for promotion, and persons for appointment in the Army of the United States.

I am, sir, with great respect, your ob'd't serv't.

W. L. MARCY.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

Washington, January 8, 1846.

SIR: I respectfully submit the accompanying list of promotions and appointments to fill the vacancies in the Army, which are known to have happened since the date of the last list, December 12th, 1845. The promotions are all regular, except that of Captain Martin Scott, 5th Infantry, whose name, agreeably to the decision of the President and your instructions, is submitted to fill the vacancy of major in the 1st Regiment of Infantry (vice Dearborn promoted), over the two senior captains of infantry, Captain John B. Clark, of the 3d Regiment, and Brevet Major Thomas Noel, of the 6th. The reasons for this departure from the ordinary course (as in other like cases of disability) are set forth in the Adjutant-General's report of the 27th ultimo, and the General-in-Chief's indorsement thereon, of which copies are herewith respectfully annexed, marked A.

I am, sir, with great respect, your obed't serv't.

R. JONES,

Adj't-Gen'l.

Hon. W. L. MARCY,

Secretary of War.

A.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

Washington, December 27, 1845.

SIR: The death of Lieut.-Colonel Hoffman, 7th Infantry, on the 26th ult'o, having caused a vacancy in the grade of major, to which, under the rule, Capt. J. B. Clark, 3d Infantry, would be entitled to succeed, I deem it proper to submit the following statement extracted from the official returns of his regiment, touching his physical capacity for the performance of military duty.

In May, 1836, Capt. Clark went on the recruiting service, where he remained till October 4, 1838, when he was granted a three-months' leave. He joined his company at Fort Towson, in May, 1839, and continued with it from that time till March, 1841, accompanying it meanwhile (Oct., 1840) to Florida. He obtained a three-months' leave on surgeon's certificate of ill health March 23d. 1841, but did not rejoin till February 16th, 1842. In the interim he was placed on duty for a short time as a member of a general court-martial, which happened to be convened at St. Louis, where he was then staying. He remained with his company from February to November, 1842, when he again received a leave for the benefit of his health, and did not return to duty till April 28, 1843 (after his regiment had been ordered to Florida), when he rejoined it at Jefferson Barracks. He continued with it (with the exception of one short leave) from April, 1843, till June, 1845, but the returns show him to have been frequently on the sick report during that period. On the 2d of June, 1845, his company being then encamped near Fort Jessup, in expectation of orders for Texas, he again procured a leave on account of his health, and has not since been able to rejoin, reporting monthly that his health unfitted him for the performance of duty. The signature of his last report (not written by himself), of November 30th (herewith), would seem to indicate great physical derangement or decrepitude, approaching, perhaps, to paralysis.

From the foregoing it appears that during the last seven years (since Oct., 1838) Capt. Clark has been off duty two years and four months, the greater part of the time on account of sickness, and that even when present with his company his health is so much impaired that very often he is unable to perform the ordinary garrison duties.

Under these circumstances it is respectfully submitted, for the consideration of the proper authority, whether the senior captain of infantry should not be passed over, and (as Brevet Major Noel*, the next in rank, is utterly disqualified) Captain Martin Scott, of the 5th Infantry, promoted to the vacant majority.

It is proper to state that Capt. Clark has always been regarded as a perfect gentleman, and as such, as far as I know, is equal to any officer in the Army.

I am, sir, most respectfully, your ob'd't serv't,
(Signed)

R. JONES,
Adj't-General.

Major-General WINFIELD SCOTT,
Commanding the Army.

Remarks indorsed on the foregoing report by the General-in-Chief:

"This report presents grave points for consideration. It is highly improbable that the captain will ever be fit for the active duties of his profession. The question, therefore, seems to be whether he shall be a pensioner on full pay as captain or as major, for he has long been, not in name, but in fact, a pensioner on full pay. We have no half pay in the Army to relieve marching regiments of crippled and superannuated officers. We have many such. Col. Maury, of the 3d Infantry (superannuated), and Majors Cobb and McClintock (5th Infantry and 3d Artillery), crippled. Many others are fast becoming superannuated. The three named are on indefinite leaves of absence, and so are Majors Searle and Noel, permanent cripples from wounds. Gen'l Cass' resolution of yesterday refers simply to age. A half pay or retired list with half pay would be much better. There are some twenty officers who ought, at once, to be placed on such list and their places filled by promotion.

"Upon the whole, I think it best that Capt. M. Scott should be promoted, vice Dearborn, vice Lieut. Col. Hoffman.

"Respectfully submitted to the Secretary of War.

"(Signed)

"WINFIELD SCOTT.

"DEC. 30, '45."

* In 1839 Brevet Major Noel, 6th Infantry, was severely wounded (serving in the Florida war at the time) by the accidental discharge of his own pistol. He left his company Feb. 16, 1839, and has ever since been absent from his regiment, the state of his wound and great suffering rendering him utterly incapable of performing any kind of duty whatever, nor is there any reason to hope he will ever be able to resume his duties.

(Signed)

R. JONES, A. G.

"It appearing from the within statements of the commanding general and the adjutant-general that the two officers proposed to be passed over are physically unable to perform the duties of major, and their inability is not temporary, I recommend that Capt. Martin Scott be promoted to the vacant majority 3d Jan'y, '46.

"(Signed)

"W. L. MARCY."

WASHINGTON, May 26, 1846.

To the Senate of the United States :

I nominate for the rank of major general, by brevet, in the Army of the United States, Zachary Taylor, now a brevet brigadier-general, for his gallant conduct and distinguished services in the successful victories over superior Mexican forces at Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma, on the 8th and 9th days of May, 1846, to take rank as such from the last-mentioned day.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, May 26, 1846.

To the Senate of the United States :

A convention was concluded at Lima, on the 17th March, 1841, between the United States and the Republic of Peru, for the adjustment of claims of our citizens upon that Republic. It was stipulated by the seventh article of this convention that "it shall be ratified by the contracting parties, and the ratifications shall be exchanged within two years from its date, or sooner, if possible, after having been approved by the President and Senate of the United States, and by the Congress of Peru."

This convention was transmitted by the President to the Senate for their consideration during the extra session of 1841, but it did not receive their approbation until the 5th January, 1843. This delay rendered it impracticable that the convention should reach Lima before the 17th March, 1843, the last day when the ratifications could be exchanged under the terms of its seventh article. The Senate, therefore, extended the time for this purpose until the 20th December, 1843.

In the mean time, previous to the 17th March, 1843, General Menendez, the constitutional President of Peru, had ratified the convention, declaring, however, in the act of ratification itself (which is without date), that "the present convention and ratification are to be submitted within the time stipulated in the seventh article for the final approbation of the National Congress" This was, however, rendered impossible from the fact that no Peruvian Congress assembled from the date of the convention until the year 1845.

When the convention arrived at Lima, General Menendez had been deposed by a revolution, and General Vivanco had placed himself at the head of the Government. On the 16th July, 1843, the convention was ratified by him in absolute terms, without the reference to Congress which the constitution of Peru requires, because, as the ratification states, "under existing circumstances the Government exercises the legislative powers demanded by the necessities of the state." The ratifications were accordingly exchanged at Lima on the 22d July, 1843, and the convention itself was proclaimed at Washington by the President on the 21st day of February, 1844.

In the mean time General Vivanco was deposed, and on the 12th October, 1843, the Government then in existence published a decree declaring all his administrative acts to be null and void; and, notwithstanding the earnest and able remonstrances of Mr. Pickett, our chargé d'affaires at Lima, the Peruvian Government have still persisted in declaring that the ratification of the convention by Vivanco was invalid.

After the meeting of the Peruvian Congress in 1845, the convention was submitted to that body, by which it was approved on the 21st October last, "with the condition, however, that the first installment of thirty thousand dollars on account of the principal of the debt thereby recognized, and to which the 2d article relates, should begin from the first day of January, 1846, and the interest on this annual sum, according to article 3d, should be calculated and paid from the first day of January, 1842, following in all other respects besides this modification the terms of the convention."

I am not in possession of the act of the Congress of Peru containing this provision, but the information is communicated through a note under date of the 15th November, 1845, from the minister of foreign affairs of Peru to the chargé d'affaires of the United States at Lima. A copy of this note has been transmitted to the Department of State both by our chargé d'affaires at Lima and by the Peruvian minister of foreign affairs, and a copy of the same is herewith transmitted.

Under these circumstances, I submit to the Senate for their consideration the amendment to the convention thus proposed by the Congress of Peru, with a view to its ratification. It would have been more satisfactory to have submitted the act itself of the Peruvian Congress, but, on account of the great distance, if I should wait until its arrival another year might be consumed, whilst the American claimants have already been too long delayed in receiving the money justly due to them. Several of the largest of these claimants would, I am informed, be satisfied with the modification of the convention adopted by the Peruvian Congress.

A difficulty may arise in regard to the form of any proceeding which the Senate might think proper to adopt, from the fact that the original convention approved by them was sent to Peru, and was exchanged for the other original, ratified by General Vivanco, which is now in the Department of State. In order to obviate this difficulty as far as may be in my power, I transmit a copy of the convention, under the seal of the United States, on which the Senate might found any action they may deem advisable.

I would suggest that should the Senate advise the adoption of the amendment proposed by the Peruvian Congress, the time for exchange-ing the ratifications of the amended convention ought to be extended for a considerable period, so as to provide against all accidents in its transmission to Lima.

Wood by the Senate, on the 5th of February, as a second lieutenant in the Fifth Regiment of Infantry, be canceled; and I nominate the officers named in the same communication for regular promotion in the Army.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, June 1, 1846.

WAR DEPARTMENT, May 15, 1846.

To the President of the United States:

SIR: On the 12th of December last a list of promotions and appointments of officers of the Army was submitted to the Senate for confirmation, in which list Brevet 2d Lient. L. B. Wood, of the 8th Infantry, was nominated to the grade of second lieutenant in the 5th Regiment of Infantry, vice 2d Lient. Deas, promoted. He was entitled to this vacancy by seniority; but in a letter dated November 30, 1845, and received at the Adjutant-General's Office December 30, 1845 (eighteen days after the list referred to above had been sent to the Senate), he says, "I respectfully beg leave to be permitted to decline promotion in any other regiment, and to fill the first vacancy which may happen in the 8th." This request was acceded to, and accordingly on the first subsequent list submitted to the Senate, dated January 8th, 1846, Brevet 2d Lieut. Charles S. Hamilton, of the 2d Infantry (the next below Lieut. Wood), was nominated to fill the vacancy in the Fifth Regiment, and Lieut. Wood to a vacancy which has occurred meanwhile (December 31st) in the Eighth.

The foregoing circumstances were explained in a note to the nomination list of January 8, but it is probable the explanation escaped observation in the Senate, as on the 5th of February Lieut. Wood was confirmed in the 5th Infantry, agreeably to the first nomination, while no action appears to have been taken on his nomination or that of Lieut. Hamilton on the subsequent list of January 8, 1846.

As no commissions have yet been issued to these officers, and as Lieut. Wood has renewed his application to be continued in the 8th Infantry, I respectfully suggest that the Senate be requested to cancel their confirmation, on the 5th of February, of his promotion as a second lieutenant in the Fifth Regiment of Infantry; and I have the honor to propose the renomination of the lieutenants whose names are annexed for regular promotion, to wit:

Fifth Regiment of Infantry.

Brevet Second Lieutenant Charles S. Hamilton, of the Second Regiment of Infantry, to be second lieutenant, November 17, 1846, vice Deas, promoted.

Eighth Regiment of Infantry.

Brevet Second Lieutenant Lafayette B. Wood to be second lieutenant, December 31, 1846, vice Maclay, promoted.

I am, sir, with great respect, your obedient servant,

W. L. MARCY.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 10, 1846.

The following message was received from the President of the United States, by Mr. Walker, his Secretary:

To the Senate of the United States :

I lay before the Senate a proposal in the form of a convention, presented to the Secretary of State on the sixth instant, by the envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of Her Britannic Majesty, for the adjustment of the Oregon question, together with a protocol of this proceeding. I submit this proposal to the consideration of the Senate and request their advice as to the action which in their judgment it may be proper to take in reference to it.

In the early periods of the Government the opinion and advice of the Senate were often taken in advance upon important questions of our foreign policy. General Washington repeatedly consulted the Senate and asked their previous advice upon pending negotiations with foreign powers; and the Senate in every instance responded to his call by giving their advice, to which he always conformed his action. This practice, though rarely resorted to in later times, was in my judgment eminently wise, and may on occasions of great importance be properly revived. The Senate are a branch of the treaty-making power, and by consulting them in advance of his own action, upon important measures of foreign policy which may ultimately come before them for their consideration, the President secures harmony of action between that body and himself. The Senate are, moreover, a branch of the war-making power, and it may be eminently proper for the Executive to take the opinion and advice of that body in advance, upon any great question which may involve in its decision the issue of peace or war. On the present occasion the magnitude of the subject would induce me under any circumstances to desire the previous advice of the Senate, and that desire is increased by the recent debates and proceedings in Congress, which render it, in my judgment, not only respectful to the Senate, but necessary and proper, if not indispensable to insure harmonious action between that body and the Executive. In conferring on the Executive the authority to give the notice for the abrogation of the convention of 1827, the Senate acted publicly so large a part that a decision on the proposal now made by the British Government, without a definite knowledge of the views of that body in reference to it, might render the question still more complicated and difficult of adjustment. For these reasons I invite the consideration of the Senate to the proposal of the British Government for the settlement of the Oregon question; and ask their advice on the subject.

My opinions and my action on the Oregon question were fully made known to Congress in my annual message of the second of December last, and the opinions therein expressed remain unchanged.

Should the Senate, by the constitutional majority required for the ratification of treaties, advise the acceptance of this proposition or advise it with such modifications as they may upon full deliberation deem proper, I shall conform my action to their advice. Should the Senate, however, decline by such constitutional majority to give such advice, or to express an opinion on the subject, I shall consider it my duty to reject the offer.

I also communicate herewith an extract from a dispatch of the Secretary of State to the minister of the United States at London, under date of the 28th of April last, directing him, in accordance with the joint resolution of Congress "concerning the Oregon Territory," to deliver the notice to the British Government for the abrogation of the convention of the 6th of August, 1827, and also a copy of the notice transmitted to him for that purpose, together with extracts from a dispatch of that minister to the Secretary of State, bearing date on the 18th day of May last.

APPOINTMENTS.

Quartermaster's Department.

First Lieutenant Simon H. Drum, of the Fourth Regiment of Artillery, to be assistant quartermaster with the rank of captain.

Pay Department.

Daniel Randall, paymaster, reappointed, to take effect July 21, 1846, when his present commission will expire.

Remarks.

1. First Lieutenant Northrop, of the First Dragoons, who stands first on the list of first lieutenants in his regiment, left his company October 6, 1839, in consequence of a severe wound occasioned by the accidental discharge of his pistol while on detached service in the Cherokee country, and has not since performed military duty, except from October 7, 1842, to March, 1843, when he acted as an assistant commissary in the Subsistence Department. December 6, 1843, he addressed a letter to the Adjutant General, expressing his unwillingness to remain a burden on the service, and, under a nice sense of professional honor, stated that it was his intention to pursue another profession. For this purpose, he asked for three years to qualify himself for the medical profession, at the termination of which, if not then able to resume his military duties, he said he would leave the Army. His request was acceded to, and Lieut. Northrop is now absent and cannot perform the duties of a lieutenant, as will be seen from his last report to the Adjutant-General, dated Charleston. S. C., April 1, 1846, to wit:

"I hereby certify that I am unfit to perform my regimental duty in consequence of the crippled condition of my right knee in which the ball is still lodged; impairing its usefulness and keeping it irritable and unfit for motion (either quick or continued). The tissues around the joint are thickened, the circulation is affected, and by motion or a pendant position the limb soon becomes turgid and heavy, with a variable degree of pain.

(Signed)

For the foregoing reasons, therefore, it is now proposed to promote Lieut. Turner over Lieut. Northrop, who cannot perform the duties of a captain of Dragoons.

2. Captain Thomas Noel, 6th Infantry, who stands first on the list of captains of infantry in Florida, February 16, 1839, in consequence of a severe wound received while on duty by the accidental discharge of his own pistol, and has ever since been absent from his regiment. The state of his wound and great suffering render him incapable of performing any kind of duty whatever; nor is there reason to hope that he will ever be able either to march or ride on horseback. Being now totally disabled for more than seven years, the promotion necessarily falls upon the captain next in rank, to wit, Martin Scott, now serving with the Army in Mexico, and where his services as a field officer are indispensable, in the place of the gallant Major Brown, since whose death the regiment has been commanded by a captain.

The following messages were received from the President of the United States, by Mr. Walker, his secretary:

To the Senate of the United States:

I nominate the officers named in the accompanying list for regular promotion in the Army of the United States to the several grades annexed to their names, as proposed by the Secretary of War.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, July 6, 1846.

WAR DEPARTMENT, July 2, 1846.

SIR: I have the honor respectfully to propose for your approbation the annexed list of officers for regular promotion in the Army of the United States.

I am, sir, with great respect, your obed't serv't,

W. L. MAROY.

To the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

WAR DEPARTMENT, July 2, 1846.

REGULAR PROMOTIONS IN THE ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES.

First Regiment of Infantry.

First Lieutenant Randolph B. Marcy to be captain, May 18, 1846, vice Thompson, resigned.

Second Lieutenant Sterne H. Fowler to be first lieutenant, May 18, 1846, vice Marcy, promoted.

Second Lieutenant Spencer Norvell to be first lieutenant, May 18, 1846, vice Root, resigned.

Brevet Second Lieutenant Erastus B. Strong, of the 7th Regiment of Infantry, to be second lieutenant, May 18, 1846, vice Fowler, promoted.

Brevet Second Lieutenant William T. Burwell, of the Sixth Regiment of Infantry, to be second lieutenant, May 18, 1846, vice Brooke, resigned.

Brevet Second Lieutenant William Read, of the Sixth Regiment of Infantry, to be second lieutenant, May 18, 1846, vice Norvell, promoted.

Sixth Regiment of Infantry.

First Lieutenant James Monroe, jr. to be captain, May 9, 1846, vice Noel, promoted to Seventh Regiment of Infantry.

Second Lieutenant Leonidas Wetmore to be first lieutenant, May 9, 1846, vice Monroe, promoted.

Brevet Second Lieutenant Simon B. Buckner, of the Second Regiment of Infantry, to be second lieutenant, May 9, 1846, vice Wetmore, promoted.

Seventh Regiment of Infantry.

Captain Thomas Noel, of the Sixth Regiment of Infantry, to be major, May 9, 1846, vice Brown, deceased (mortally wounded in battle).

The foregoing promotions are intended as a substitute for those contained in the nomination list of the 15th ultimo, under the headings Fifth and Seventh Regiments of Infantry, which now become necessary by the refusal of the Senate, on the 29th ultimo, to advise and consent to the promotion of Lieutenants Marcy, Fowler, and Buckner, in the 5th and Captain Martin Scott in the 7th Regiment of Infantry, according to their nominations. Captain Scott, by his non-confirmation as major, being thus compelled to resume his place as captain in the 5th Infantry, the other officers of that regiment whose promotions were dependent upon his advancement fall back also into their original positions; but they are entitled to the first subsequent vacancy, and hence not to overlook their claims by promoting their juniors, the resolution of the Senate of the 29th ultimo confirming the promotions of Lieutenants Ruggles, Norvell, and Robinson in the 5th Infantry, agreeably to their nominations in the list of June 15, ought to be rescinded. Lieut. C. S. Hamilton's promotion having no connection with the contingency stated, it should stand as confirmed the 29th ultimo.

To the Senate of the United States:

I nominate the cadets named in the accompanying list for appointment in the Army of the United States, as proposed by the Secretary of War.

On motion,

The Senate adjourned.

TUESDAY, JULY 21, 1846.

The following messages were received from the President of the United States, by Mr. Walker, his secretary :

To the Senate of the United States :

I herewith transmit, in compliance with the request of the Senate in their resolution of the 17th of June, 1846, a report of the Secretary of State, together with a copy of all "the dispatches and instructions" "relative to the Oregon treaty" "forwarded to our minister, Mr. McLane," "not heretofore communicated to the Senate," including a statement of the propositions for the adjustment of the Oregon question previously made and rejected by the respective Governments. This statement was furnished to Mr. McLane before his departure from the country, and is dated on the 12th July, 1845, the day on which the note was addressed by the Secretary of State to Mr. Pakenham offering to settle the controversy by the 49th parallel of latitude, which was rejected by that minister on the 29th July following.

The Senate will perceive that extracts from but two of Mr. McLane's "dispatches and communications to this Government" are transmitted, and these only because they were necessary to explain the answers given to them by the Secretary of State.

These dispatches are both numerous and voluminous, and, from their confidential character, their publication, it is believed, would be highly prejudicial to the public interests.

Public considerations alone have induced me to withhold the dispatches of Mr. McLane addressed to the Secretary of State. I concur with the Secretary of State in the views presented in his report, herewith transmitted, against the publication of these dispatches.

Mr. McLane has performed his whole duty to his country, and I am not only willing but anxious that every Senator who may desire it shall have an opportunity of perusing these dispatches at the Department of State. The Secretary of State has been instructed to afford every facility for this purpose.

JAMES K. POLK.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, August 4, 1846.

To the Senate of the United States :

I herewith communicate to the Senate the copy of a letter, under date of the 27th ultimo, from the Secretary of State of the United States to the minister of foreign relations of the Mexican Republic, again proposing to open negotiations and conclude a treaty of peace which shall adjust all the questions in dispute between the two Republics. Considering the relative power of the two countries, the glorious events which have already signalized our arms, and the distracted condition of Mexico, I did not conceive that any point of national honor could exist which ought to prevent me from making this overture. Equally anxious to terminate by a peace honorable for both parties, as I was, originally, to avoid the existing war, I have deemed it my duty again to extend the olive branch to Mexico. Should the Government of that Republic accept the offer in the same friendly spirit by which it was dictated, negotiations will speedily commence for the conclusion of a treaty.

The chief difficulty to be anticipated in the negotiation is the adjustment of the boundary between the parties by a line which shall at once be satisfactory to both, and such as neither will hereafter be inclined to disturb. This is the best mode of securing perpetual peace and good neighborhood between the two Republics. Should the Mexican Government in order to accomplish these objects be willing to cede any portion of their territory to the United States, we ought to pay them a fair equivalent—a just and honorable peace, and not conquest, being our purpose in the prosecution of the war.

Under these circumstances and considering the exhausted and distracted condition of the Mexican Republic, it might become necessary in order to restore peace that I should have it in my power to advance a portion of the consideration money for any cession of territory which may be made. The Mexican Government might not be willing to wait for the payment of the whole until the treaty could be ratified by the Senate and an appropriation to carry it into effect be made by Congress; and the necessity for such a delay might defeat the object altogether. I would therefore suggest whether it might not be wise for Congress to appropriate a sum such as they might consider adequate for this purpose, to be paid, if necessary, immediately upon the ratification of the treaty by Mexico. This disbursement would of course be accounted for at the Treasury, not as secret-service money, but like other expenditures.

Two precedents for such a proceeding exist in our past history, during the administration of Mr. Jefferson, to which I would call your attention. On the 26th February, 1803, Congress passed an act appropriating two millions of dollars “for the purpose of defraying any extraordinary expenses which may be incurred in the intercourse between the United States and foreign nations,” “to be applied under the direction of the President of the United States, who shall cause an account of the expenditure thereof to be laid before Congress as soon as may be;” and on the 13th February, 1806, an appropriation was made of the same amount and in the same terms. The object in the first case was to enable the President to obtain the cession of Louisiana, and in the second that of the Florida. In neither case was the money actually drawn from the Treasury, and I should hope that the result might be similar in this respect on the present occasion, though the appropriation is deemed expedient as a precautionary measure.

I refer the whole subject to the Senate in executive session. If they should concur in opinion with me, then I recommend the passage of a law appropriating such a sum as Congress may deem adequate, to be used by the Executive, if necessary, for the purpose which I have indicated.

In the two cases to which I have referred the special purpose of the appropriation did not appear on the face of the law, as this might have defeated the object; neither, for the same reason, in my opinion, ought it now to be stated.

I also communicate to the Senate the copy of a letter from the Secretary of State to Commodore Conner, of the 29th ultimo, which was transmitted to him on the day it bears date.

Ordered, That the nomination of James H. Cocke be referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Ordered, That the nomination of William G. Marcy be referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Ordered, That the nominations of officers in the Navy be referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

On motion by Mr. McDuffie,

Ordered, That the message, with the documents communicated therewith, relating to affairs with the Republic of Mexico, be referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Mr. Sevier, from the Committee on Indian Affairs, made the following report :

The Committee on Indian Affairs, to whom was referred, the 13th of January, the message from the President in relation to the measures which have been adopted as to the transfer of certain stocks between the Chickasaw and Choctaw Indians, have had the subject under consideration, and report :

That this transaction between the Chickasaws and Choctaws was founded upon a convention and agreement made on the 17th day of January, 1837, by which the Chickasaws obtained the possession of a district of country from the Choctaws, for which they engaged to pay the sum of $530,000 ; $30,000 of which to be paid, "and the remaining $500,000 to be invested in some safe and secure stocks, under the direction of the Government of the United States, redeemable within a period of not less than twenty years ; and the Government of the United States shall cause the interest arising therefrom to be paid annually to the Choctaws."

By the thirteenth article of the treaty of the 24th May, 1834, with the Chickasaw tribe of Indians, it was provided "that if the Chickasaws shall be so fortunate as to procure a home within the limits of the United States, it is agreed that, with the consent of the President and Senate, so much of their invested stocks as may be necessary to the purchase of a country for them to settle in shall be permitted to them to be sold."

The arrangement between those tribes having been concluded by their agreement of the 17th January, 1837, as above stated, and submitted to the Senate for their consideration and consent, if approved, that consent was given in the following terms :

"Be it resolved, That the consent of the Senate of the United States be, and the same is hereby, given to the transfer of the Chickasaws' stock, not exceeding $500,000, standing on the books of the Treasury to their credit, to the Secretary of War for the time being, to be held to and for the use of the Choctaws, according to the terms and in execution of the compact aforesaid of 17th January, 1837."

It will be seen from the premises that the Senate has by its action fully corresponded with the terms of the convention and agreement between the United States and the Chickasaws concluded on the 24th May, 1834, and accorded its consent, as invoked, to the agreement between the Chickasaws and Choctaws of the 17th January, 1837, so far as it was requisite to authorize the application of the stock of the Chickasaws to the payment of the Choctaws.

The execution of the intentions of the Senate, as expressed in their resolutions, belonged to the Executive department of the Government ; and as those intentions were fully expressed, and the necessary power fully conferred, the committee might close this report by the remark that should the arrangement not have been completed, then this power has not been expended, but may still be employed to its consummation.

But it appears by the documents communicated to the Senate by the President that since the transfer of the stock belonging to the Chickasaws to the Choctaws, and the acceptance by the latter, in February, 1841, "in full discharge of this obligation," the authorities of the Choctaws have discovered that this stock received by them at $500,000 had cost the Chickasaws but $495,000; and upon this idea they base a claim against the Chickasaws for the difference of "$5,000, with interest from the date of transfer," and this claim is brought forward without any proof of the intrinsic value of the stock at the time of transfer; while the committee believe that in this transaction between two Indian tribes, the one conveying and the other receiving a consideration in discharge of an obligation, even should proof have been exhibited of the deficiency in value of the consideration, it would be irregular, if not unwarrantable, without a full understanding between the parties and the consent of the Chickasaws, to make any further appropriation of their stock in the hands of the Government, acting as their trustee.

The inexpediency, if not impropriety, of any interference with the rights of the Chickasaws in this matter will be still more apparent when it is considered that so far from the stock conveyed to the Choctaws being under the value of $500,000, it appears from the report of the Secretary of War of the 14th January, 1843, to the House of Representatives (Doc. No. 65, page 65), that there was paid from the Chickasaw fund for the same number of bonds of Alabama 5 per cent. stock, on the 29th May, 1838, the sum of $520,000, including a premium of $20,000.

As regards the rate of interest to be realized by the Choctaws from the stock transferred to them, no reference whatever is made to it in the agreements presented for the consideration of the Senate, and it therefore requires no remark on the part of the committee.

Under all the circumstances of the case, the committee can perceive no good for any further action of the Senate on the subject, and therefore ask to be discharged from its further consideration.

Mr. Archer submitted the following resolution for consideration:

Resolved, That the President be requested to lay before the Senate, in executive session, the report of the board of naval officers recently in session in this city, including the orders under which it was convened and the evidence which may have been laid before it.

To the Senate of the United States :

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, August 7th, 1846.

To the Senate of the United States :

I transmit herewith, for the consideration and constitutional action of the Senate, articles of a treaty which has been concluded, by the commissioners appointed for the purpose, with the different parties into which the Cherokee tribe of Indians has been divided, through their delegates now in Washington. The same commissioners had previously been appointed to investigate the subject of the difficulties, which have for years existed among the Cherokees, and which have kept them in a state of constant excitement and almost entirely interrupted all progress on their part in civilization and improvement in agriculture and the mechanic arts, and have led to many unfortunate acts of domestic strife, against which the Government is bound by the treaty of 1835 to protect them. Their unfortunate internal dissensions had attracted the notice and excited the sympathies of the whole country, and it became evident, that if something was not done to heal them they would terminate in a sanguinary war, in which other tribes of Indians might become involved and the lives and property of our own citizens on the frontier endangered. I recommended in my message to Congress, on the 13th of April last, such measures as I then thought it expedient should be adopted to restore peace and good order among the Cherokees, one of which was a division of the country which they occupy and separation of the tribe. This recommendation was made under the belief that the different factions could not be reconciled and live together in harmony—a belief based, in a great degree, upon the representations of the delegates of the two divisions of the tribe. Since then, however, there appears to have been a change of opinion on this subject on the part of these divisions of the tribe, and on representations being made to me that by the appointment of commissioners to hear and investigate the causes of grievance of the parties against each other, and to examine into their claims against the Government it would probably be found that an arrangement could be made which would once more harmonize the tribe, and adjust in a satisfactory manner their claims upon and relations with the United States. I did not hesitate to appoint three persons for the purpose. The commissioners entered into an able and laborious investigation, and on their making known to me the probability of their being able to conclude a new treaty with the delegates of all the divisions of the tribe who were fully empowered to make any new arrangement which would heal all dissensions among the Cherokees and restore them to their ancient condition of peace and good brotherhood, I authorized and appointed them to enter into negotiations with these delegates for the accomplishment of that object. The treaty now transmitted is the result of their labors, and it is hoped that it will meet the approbation of Congress, and, if carried out in good faith by all parties to it, it is believed it will effect the great and desirable ends had in view.

Accompanying the treaty is the report of the commissioners, and also a communication to them from John Ross and others, who represent what is termed the Government party of the Cherokees, and which is transmitted at their request for the consideration of the Senate.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, August 7, 1846.

The messages were read.

[Confidential.]

To the Senate of the United States :

I herewith communicate to the Senate, for its consideration, a convention concluded and signed at Berlin on the 29th day of January, 1845, between the United States and Prussia, together with certain other German States, for the mutual extradition of fugitives from justice in certain cases. And I communicate with the convention the correspondence necessary to explain it.

In submitting this convention to the Senate, I deem it proper to call their attention to the third article, by which it is stipulated that "none of the contracting parties shall be bound to deliver up its own citizens or subjects under the stipulations of this convention." No such reservation is to be found in our treaties of extradition with Great Britain and France—the only two nations with whom we have concluded such treaties. These provide for the surrender of all persons who are fugitives from justice, without regard to the country to which they may belong. Under this article, if German subjects of any of the parties to the convention should commit crimes within the United States and fly back to their native country from justice, they would not be surrendered. This is clear in regard to all such Germans as shall not have been naturalized under our laws. But even after naturalization, difficult and embarrassing questions might arise between the parties. These German powers, holding the doctrine of perpetual allegiance, might refuse to surrender German naturalized citizens, whilst we must ever maintain the principle that the rights and duties of such citizens are the same as if they had been born in the United States.

I would also observe that the 4th article of the treaty submitted contains a provision not to be found in our conventions with Great Britain and France.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, February 13, 1847.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, February 13, 1847.

SIR: I have the honor respectfully to propose for your approbation the following-named captains for promotion to the rank of major in the existing regiments of the Army, in conformity with the third section of the act approved February 11, 1847, which authorizes one additional major to each of the regiments of dragoons, artillery, infantry, and riflemen.

The promotions are all regular with one exception, that of Captain Washington Seawell, of the 7th Infantry, instead of Captain Edgar Hawkins, of the same regiment, who stands at the head of the list of his grade in the infantry arm. Captain Hawkins (who distinguished himself in the defense of Fort Brown) is passed over on the ground of mental alienation, it being officially reported that he is "insane," on which account he was recently sent from the army in Mexico. He is now in New York, and is reported to be "unable to perform any duty." An officer just returned from the Army in Mexico, and who had recently served with Captain Hawkins, informed the Adjutant-General that he was quite deranged, but that he had hopes of his recovery, as the malady was probably caused by sickness. Should these hopes be realized at some future day, Captain Hawkins will then, of course, be promoted without loss of rank; meanwhile I respectfully recommend that he be passed over, as the declared object of these additional majors (as set forth in the Adjutant-General's report to this Department, of the 30th of July last) was to insure the presence of an adequate number of efficient field officers for duty with the marching regiments, which object would be neutralized in part should Captain Hawkins now receive the appointment.

I am, sir, with great respect, your ob't serv't,

W. L. MARCY.

To the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, February 15th, 1847.

To the Senate of the United States :

I transmit to the Senate, for their advice with regard to its ratification, "A general treaty of peace, amity, navigation and commerce between the United States of America and the Republic of New Granada," concluded at Bogota on the 12th December, last, by Benjamin A. Bidlack, chargé d'affaires of the United States, on their part, and by Manuel Maria Mallarino, secretary of state and foreign relations, on the part of that Republic.

It will be perceived, by the 35th article of this treaty, that New Granada proposes to guarantee to the Government and citizens of the United States the right of passage across the Isthmus of Panama over the natural roads and over any canal or railroad which may be constructed to unite the two seas, on condition that the United States shall make a similar guarantee to New Granada of the neutrality of this portion of her territory and her sovereignty over the same.

The reasons which caused the insertion of this important stipulation in the treaty will be fully made known to the Senate by the accompanying documents. From these it will appear that our charge d'affaires acted, in this particular, upon his own responsibility and without instructions. Under such circumstances it became my duty to decide whether I would submit the treaty to the Senate; and after mature consideration, I have determined to adopt this course.

The importance of this concession to the commercial and political interests of the United States cannot easily be overrated. The route by the Isthmus of Panama is the shortest between the two oceans, and from the information herewith communicated, it would seem to be the most practicable for a railroad or canal.

The vast advantages to our commerce which would result from such a communication, not only with the west coast of America, but with Asia and the islands of the Pacific, are too obvious to require any detail. Such a passage would relieve us from a long and dangerous navigation of more than nine thousand miles around Cape Horn, and render our communication with our possessions on the northwest coast of America comparatively easy and speedy.

The communication across the Isthmus has attracted the attention of the Government of the United States ever since the independence of the South American Republics. On the 3d of March, 1835, a resolution passed the Senate in the following words, "Resolved, That the President of the United States be respectfully requested to consider the expediency of opening negotiations with the Governments of other nations, and particularly with the Governments of Central America and New Granada, for the purpose of effectually protecting by suitable treaty stipulations with them, such individuals or companies as may undertake to open a communication between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, by the construction of a ship canal across the Isthmus which connects North and South America, and of securing forever, by such stipulations the free and equal right of navigating such canal to all nations, on the payment of such reasonable tolls as may be established, to compensate the capitalists who may engage in such undertaking and complete the work."

No person can be more deeply sensible than myself of the danger of entangling alliances with any foreign nation. That we should avoid such alliances, has become a maxim of our policy consecrated by the most venerated names which adorn our history, and sanctioned by the unanimous voice of the American people. Our own experience has taught us the wisdom of this maxim in the only instance, that of the guarantee to France of her American possessions, in which we have ever entered into such an alliance. If, therefore, the very peculiar circumstances of the present case do not greatly impair if not altogether destroy the force of this objection, then we ought not to enter into the stipulation, whatever may be its advantages. The general considerations which have induced me to transmit the treaty to the Senate for their advice may be summed up in the following particulars:

1. The treaty does not propose to guarantee a territory to a foreign nation in which the United States will have no common interest with that nation. On the contrary, we are more deeply and directly interested in the subject of this guarantee than New Granada herself or any other country.

2. The guarantee does not extend to the territories of New Granada generally, but is confined to the single province of the Isthmus of Panama, where we shall acquire by the treaty a common and co-extensive right of passage with herself.

3. It will constitute no alliance for any political object, but for a purely commercial purpose, in which all the navigating nations of the world have a common interest.

4. In entering into the mutual guarantees proposed by the 35th article of the treaty, neither the Government of New Granada nor that of the United States has any narrow or exclusive views. The ultimate object, as presented by the Senate of the United States in their resolution to which I have already referred, is to secure to all nations the free and equal right of passage over the Isthmus. If the United States, as the chief of the American nations, should first become a party to this guarantee, it cannot be doubted, indeed it is confidently expected by the Government of New Granada, that similar guarantees will be given to that Republic by Great Britain and France. Should the proposition thus tendered be rejected, we may deprive the United States of the just influence which its acceptance might secure to them, and confer the glory and benefits of being the first among the nations in concluding such an arrangement upon the Government either of Great Britain or France. That either of these Governments would embrace the offer cannot be doubted; because there does not appear to be any other effectual means of securing to all nations the advantages of this important passage but the guarantee of great commercial powers that the Isthmus shall be neutral territory. The interests of the world at stake are so important that the security of this passage between the two oceans cannot be suffered to depend upon the wars and revolutions which may arise among different nations.

Besides, such a guarantee is almost indispensable to the construction of a railroad or canal across the territory. Neither sovereign states nor individuals would expend their capital in the construction of these expensive works without some such security for their investments.

The guarantee of the sovereignty of New Granada over the Isthmus is a natural consequence of the guarantee of its neutrality, and there does not seem to be any other practicable mode of securing the neutrality of this territory. New Granada would not consent to yield up this province in order that it might become a neutral state, and if she should, it is not sufficiently populous or wealthy to establish and maintain an independent sovereignty. But a civil government must exist there in order to protect the works which shall be constructed. New Granada is a power which will not excite the jealousy of any nation. If Great Britain, France, or the United States held the sovereignty over the Isthmus, other nations might apprehend that in case of war the Government would close up the passage against the enemy; but no such fears can ever be entertained in regard to New Granada.

This treaty removes the heavy discriminating duties against us in the ports of New Granada which have nearly destroyed our commerce and navigation with that Republic, and which we have been in vain endeavoring to abolish for the last twenty years.

It may be proper also to call the attention of the Senate to the 25th article of the treaty, which prohibits privateering in case of war between the two Republics; and also to the additional article which nationalizes all vessels of the parties which "shall be provided by the respective Governments with a patent issued according to its laws," and in this particular goes further than any of our former treaties.

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointment of the said persons agreeably to their nominations, respectively.

Mr. Westcott, from the select committee to whom was referred, on the 11th January, the memorial of James W. Schaumburg, made the following report:

The select committee of the Senate to whom was referred the memorial of James W. Schaumburg, having considered that memorial and the documents submitted to the committee, report:

That, on the 6th day of June, 1836, the memorialist, James W. Schaumburg, was nominated by the then President of the United States (General Jackson) to the Senate of the United States for the office of first lieutenant in the Regiment of United States Dragoons from the 1st of March, 1836, vice Noland resigned (vide page 145, vol. 11, Senate Executive Journal). This nomination was on the nomination of Adjutant-General Jones of same date to Mr. Secretary Cass, and the recommendation of the Secretary to the President, all laid before the Senate June 8, 1836. On the 15th June, 1836, Mr. Benton, chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, to which had been referred, with others, this nomination, reported thereon, and the nomination was "advised and consented to" by the Senate same day (page 153, vol. 11, S. E. J.). On the 1st of July, 1836, a commission was issued to Mr. Schaumburg as "first lieutenant in the Regiment of Dragoons in the service of the United States, to rank as such from the 1st of March, 1836." This commission is duly signed by President Jackson, countersigned "Lew. Cass, Secretary of War," and is duly recorded in the Adjutant-General's office. By "General Order" No. 46, dated July 6, 1836, issued from the Adjutant-General's office "by order of Major-General Macomb," commanding general of the Army, Mr. Schaumburg is announced as being promoted from a second lieutenantcy (which he held before) to be first lieutenant from March 1, 1836, "vice Noland, resigned, in the First Regiment of Dragoons," &c.

This commission of first lieutenant, in the judgment of a majority of this committee, has never been forfeited by any act of commission or omission of Mr. Schaumburg; has never been resigned by him; and he has never been discharged from the Army by any legal order of the President, upon any sentence of any court-martial or otherwise.

The correctness of this opinion has been before, and is now, questioned; and it appears that a different opinion being entertained by the "commanding general of the Army" in 1836, James W. Schaumburg's name was, by his order, in that year dropped from the roll of the Army, and omitted in the subsequent official Army Register.

The facts by which it has been contended this course was made legal and proper are briefly these:

Mr. Schaumburg had been, on the 10th day of May, 1834, commissioned, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, a second lieutenant in the Regiment of Dragoons in the service of the United States.

On the 6th day of June, 1836, Second Lieutenant Schaumburg, then stationed and being at Fort Des Moines, on the Upper Mississippi, transmitted his resignation "as second lieutenant, to take effect on the 31st of October, 1836." It was received at the War Department June 23, 1836. The indorsements on that letter of resignation are these: "Submitted to the Adjutant-General. R. J." "Recommended to be accepted, and to take effect 31st July, 1836. A. Macomb, M. G." "Approved. L. C."

By General Order No. 44, issued by order of Major-General Macomb, dated June 30, 1836, it is announced that the President has accepted "First Lieutenant Schaumburg's resignation, to take effect 31st July, 1836." Except from the evidence this order affords it does not appear that the President ever accepted any resignation of Mr. Schaumburg.

The committee regard the condition that it should not take effect till October 31, 1836, contained in the resignation of Mr. Schaumburg, as an essential part of it. The resignation could not take effect till 31st October, 1836. Such mode of resignation was entirely legal, and conformable to the rules and regulations of the Army, the several orders under them, and the long established usages and customs of the service, acquiesced in and approved by the War Department under several successive administrations. It has been contended that the law forbids such qualified resignation. When of such character the time cannot be changed without the assent of the officer proposing to resign. Such resignation cannot be turned into an unqualified resignation, or its terms modified or varied, by any authority, against his wishes, without his knowledge, and to his injury, as in this case. A resignation is the voluntary act of the officer. If it is conditional, or qualified, and the conditions or qualifications are altered or changed without his consent, such different resignation cannot be said to be his act. It is an abuse of language to call an act an "acceptance" of a resignation, which makes a new and different resignation from that tendered, and which, in fact, refuses to accept the resignation really made. The acceptance of the tender of a resignation which contains conditions or qualifications adopts them. If the terms coupled with the tender are not acquiesced in, the resignation is refused. The resignation cannot be separated from the conditions or qualifications, and the first accepted and the latter refused. If the conditions or qualifications are not agreed to by the authority empowered to accept a resignation, the proposal to resign is rejected. A refusal to accept a conditional or qualified resignation, or offer to resign, with the conditions or qualifications coupled with it, has the same effect as an unqualified refusal. So manifest does the correctness of these positions seem to the committee that it is not deemed necessary to do more than to make this brief statement of them.

The first and elementary principles of justice require that nothing should be imputed to a person as his act which he never assented to. If, in the absence of any act of Congress, or established written regulation made according to law, any rule of "departmental law" has obtained in violation of these fundamental principles, it is invalid. In this case the resignation stated to have been accepted was not made by Mr. Schaumburg. He resigned on the condition that his resignation should take effect October 31, 1836. He never assented to the condition that his resignation should take effect July 31, 1836. This condition was imposed by the commanding general. Mr. Schaumburg could not have known of it when it was substituted for what was his resignation. The resignation stated to have been accepted as his was imputed to him by others, without any authority so to do, either derived from him or from any law.

Without referring at present, to the circumstance that, though the tender of resignation was of his commission as second lieutenant, the resignation, it was stated by the War Department, was as first lieutenant also, the committee conceive that the terms of Mr. Schaumburg's proposed resignation should have been acceded to, in its acceptance, to complete the resignation; and that, the terms proposed being refused, the acceptance, if even regarded as of his second lieutenantcy, as it rejected the proposed terms coupled with the offer to resign, and imposed other terms, was a nullity.

That the President, in 1836, possessed the power to dismiss Second Lieutenant Schaumburg from the Army may be conceded without affecting this case. It is not that power which was exercised. It was never intended or attempted to be exercised by the President.

The attention of the committee, in weighing the effect of the circumstances of this case, has been directed to the dates, before given as important. The nomination of Mr. Schaumburg as first lieutenant was June 6, 1836, and it appears was first noted in the Senate Journals June 8, 1836. It was on the same 6th of June, while at Fort Des Moines, Second Lieutenant Schaumburg sent his conditional or prospective resignation to the Secretary of War. It was received at the War Department seventeen days after it was written. The nomination to the Senate of Mr. Schaumburg as first lieutenant could not have been withdrawn, as it had been previously confirmed by the Senate. The particular day the resignation was accepted, in the manner stated, is not ascertained; it is presumed it was the day order No. 44, before referred to, was issued. The commission of first lieutenant is dated the day after this order No. 44 was issued. The General Order No. 46, announcing the promotion of Mr. Schaumburg to a first lieutenantcy, is dated six days after that order No. 44, stating that his resignation as first lieutenant had been accepted. His nomination as first lieutenant was confirmed by the Senate eight days before his resignation as second lieutenant (dated 6th June, 1836) was received at the War Department. It thus appears that Mr. Schaumburg when he wrote his resignation at Fort Des Moines (a great distance from Washington) could not have known of his nomination as first lieutenant; and also, that when the resignation of the commission of second lieutenant was accepted, he was not a second but a first lieutenant; which commission he never offered to resign and of which no resignation could have been accepted. Order No. 44, stating the resignation of such commission, is therefore incorrect in point of fact, unless it is held that the resignation of a second lieutenantcy, which he had, was also a resignation of a first lieutenantcy, that he had not. The committee do not, however, consider it necessary to present an extended argument founded on these dates.

They are noted in the first place to sustain the position that the commission of Mr. Schaumburg as first lieutenant, and the general order announcing him as having been promoted to such first lieutenancy, both being subsequent to the order stating the resignation to have been accepted, rescinded and revoked that acceptance (unless they were issued by inadvertence), which position, it is submitted, cannot be successfully controverted.

It has been contended that Mr. Schaumburg was not a second lieutenant when promoted to a first lieutenancy, and that therefore his commission as first lieutenant was void, inasmuch as the law requires promotions to be confined to officers of the Army, in regular order, according to rank. This position cannot be sustained. His resignation of his second lieutenancy could not take effect till received and accepted. Though the Adjutant-General, in his letter to Mr. Schaumburg, dated March 25, 1845, seems to advance the opinion, by the expression that Mr. Schaumburg "had not received his promotion at the time your (his) letter was written, to wit, June 6, 1836;" that the resignation took effect from the day it was written, yet it is believed the question is settled differently by the 27th clause of article 8 of the Army Regulations, which declares that "no officer will be considered out of service, by resignation, until his resignation shall have been duly accepted by the proper authority." The dates stated show that he was nominated and confirmed as first lieutenant before his resignation as second lieutenant was either "received" or "accepted," upon which confirmation his commission as first lieutenant subsequently issued. It may be observed, also, that this article of the regulations, besides destroying the argument that the acceptance when made relates back to the date of the resignation, operates to nullify that resignation in another way. It is a two-edged sword. Mr. Schaumburg was not, in fact, a second lieutenant when the resignation was accepted, or even when it was received. His commission as such had been nullified by his previous promotion to a first lieutenancy. It is true, his commission as first lieutenant was not issued till the day after the acceptance was made; but in such cases a commission is but the evidence of the appointment, and it is not necessary that he should have received and accepted such commission to produce this result. (Vide Marbury vs. Madison, 1 Cranch, 137, &c.) The acceptance of the resignation of a commission that the resigning officer does not hold must surely be regarded as an act of supererogation and void.

It might be presumed that, under liberal rules, the fact of Mr. Schaumburg's ignorance of his nomination for promotion to a first lieutenancy, to take effect 1st March, 1836, when he wrote his resignation of his second lieutenancy from a distant post, would at least operate in favor of his claim not to have its acceptance insisted upon.

It is, however, a full and sufficient answer to the assumption that he was not a second lieutenant when commissioned as first lieutenant, on the 1st of July, 1838, by reason of the antecedent acceptance of his resignation as second lieutenant, to advert to the fact that, by the express terms of that acceptance, in the language of the commanding general, approved by the War Department, it was not to take effect till July 31, 1836—a month and a half after the confirmation by the Senate of his nomination as first lieutenant—a month after his commission as first lieutenant in fact issued, and nearly a month after the announcement in general orders of his promotion.

Conceding the legality of the acceptance in the terms stated (not made by him), and that the new and different terms imposed by the commanding general in such acceptance, without the consent or even the knowledge of Mr. Schaumburg, was a legal acceptance; conceding also that it was not revoked or rescinded by his commission as first lieutenant, such acceptance could have had no effect to place him out of the Army, even as second lieutenant, before the 31st of July, 1836. Up to that day, by the terms of the acceptance, not "to take effect" till that day (if he had not been promoted), he would have been legally a second lieutenant, amenable to the laws as such; bound to fulfill the duties, and possessing all the rights, of an officer of that rank, under his first commission, and of course entitled to promotion under it.

The notice of the committee has been directed to General Order No. 43, dated June 28, 1836, as legalizing the expulsion of Mr. Schaumburg from the service. His resignation was written, is dated at, and was sent from, Fort Des Moines, twenty-two days before that order was issued and promulgated, and though the "acceptance" was subsequent, the committee have not been able to discover anything in that order (as it has been contended) at all applicable to his resignation, nor does the order in terms have any relation to or bearing upon Mr. Schaumburg's case. The committee find upon examination of the documents submitted to them that the present commanding general and the Adjutant-General of the Army, and the Committee on Military Affairs of the Senate, to which this case was referred in 1845, held similar opinions respecting the inapplicability of this order to Mr. Schaumburg's case, and it is considered that the chief difficulty in relation to the case, and which caused the second exclusion of Mr. Schaumburg from the service, was, that the resignation, originally (in 1836), was improperly regarded as governed by that order, the change of the terms of it, and its acceptance (with such altered terms) made under it and the entire course then adopted as if it was within that order; and that the decision of President Tyler restoring him to the Army also erroneously placed his claim to restoration solely upon that general order.

Before the time stated in the letter of resignation, and even before the time stated in the "acceptance" for the resignation to take effect, Mr. Schaumburg withdrew or recalled his resignation. On the 15th July, 1836, while on his way to Washington from New Orleans, he wrote from Wheeling, Virginia, to the Secretary of War, and informed him of his desire to withdraw his resignation, and that he would "in a few days report in person to the Adjutant-General and commanding general." He wrote also the same day a similar letter to the commanding general, Macomb. On the 22d July, 1836, he officially reported himself to the Adjutant-General "for duty in obedience to the General Order No. 43," and as in Washington, as appears from a certified copy of the "report book" of the Adjutant-General's office, laid before the committee. On the 25th July, 1836, he wrote to and filed with General Macomb, "commanding general," a "protest" against the acceptance of his conditional resignation of his commission as second lieutenant (accepted on different terms from those he tendered), against its excluding him, by construction, from his first lieutenantcy, and especially against its being held to be a resignation of his commission as first lieutenant. A copy of this protest is appended to this report. It appears also that Mr. Schaumburg made several ineffectual applications to be restored to his commission and rank of first lieutenant, from that time to the year 1844, when he was restored as hereinafter stated.

It is conceived that the facts above stated are pertinent as bearing upon the question of the intention of Mr. Schaumburg, when (in ignorance of his promotion) he wrote his resignation, and as showing that as soon as he was apprized of the facts his acts exhibited a very different purpose from that imputed to him, of withdrawing entirely from the service. If it is admitted that such intention, manifested while he was in ignorance of his promotion, is to bind him irrevocably after he was notified of the true condition of his interests and rights, and if the "Department of War," or "commanding general," had any power to depart from the tenor of his resignation and into an inquiry as to his intention, to give it an effect not deducible from its terms, then it is submitted that the withdrawal or recall of his conditional or prospective resignation, or rather his tender of such resignation, was entirely consistent with the practice, usages, and customs of the service, and entirely proper. Official evidence of different cases of such withdrawals of resignation, made in the beginning of June, 1836, similar in terms to that written by Second Lieutenant Schaumburg, has been adduced to the committee, and likewise cases before and since that time. The committee have not been able to divine any just reason why Mr. Schaumburg's case was made an exception; and, in fact, they consider the peculiar circumstances before recited should have caused his recall of his resignation to have been approved, in preference to any case brought to their notice.

The committee have noticed, among the papers submitted to them, some written by officers, referring to Mr. Schaumburg's being under arrest at the time of writing his resignation, and alleging that he had been guilty of military faults, to sustain the alleged legality of his exclusion from the Army. Some of the most material and important facts in his favor are omitted, and partial statements made to his prejudice. The conduct of military men should be characterized by liberality and a high tone of feeling towards their comrades. If the fact was that Lieutenant Schaumburg had been guilty of military faults it should not affect his claim to have his legal rights recognized and sustained. It is no justification for a violation of law by his superior officers, in what they designate an "acceptance" of his resignation. So far from its being an excuse for such acceptance, if the accusation had been well founded, or even probably true, such fact should have caused his resignation to be refused by his superior officers, and it was their duty to have forthwith subjected Mr. Schaumburg to trial by court-martial, for the imputed offenses. Whether or not by the "blunders" (to use the language of President Tyler) of others than Mr. Schaumburg, if he should be now restored, he is exonerated from trial for such imputed offenses by reason of the limitation against prosecution, is, in the opinion of the committee, an illegitimate inquiry. Mr. Schaumburg should not be regarded as guilty, and punished by exclusion from the Army illegally, because his superior officers illegally neglected to bring him to trial ten years ago. But the committee are inclined to the opinion that the restoration to him of his rights will not prevent him from being brought to trial for any offenses committed within two years prior to the 31st July, 1836, as there has existed in the circumstances of his case that "manifest impediment" in making him "amenable to justice," referred to in the 88th article of the Articles of War, which would exclude his trial for such offences from the operation of the limitation prescribed by that article.

This opinion, of course, depends on the correctness of the ground assumed, that his actual exclusion from the Army since then has been illegal, and is therefore not inconsistent with that advanced by the Military Committee of the Senate in its report made in March, 1845, founded as therein stated, on the position that he has not since that day been legally an officer.

One objection to Mr. Schaumburg's restoration, made when his case was before the Senate in 1845, is, that in 18 he applied for a paymaster's place in the Army, and in urging his claims he stated that he had been unjustly excluded from the service as a first lieutenant; and this, it has been contended, was an abandonment of his claim to his rank as first lieutenant. The committee do not think so. A second or a first lieutenant, or any other officer, may apply for the place of paymaster, or any place in the Army, or in civil life; and, unless he obtains the appointment, accepts it, and the holding of it is incompatible with the office he before held, it cannot operate as a resignation or abandonment in any view of the matter, of his first office.

In January, 1844, President Tyler, after an examination of Mr. Schaumburg's case, ordered that he should be reinstated in the Army on the happening of the first vacancy appropriate to his case. On the 29th of July, 1844, he received a letter of "reappointment as first-lieutenant in the First Dragoons, and to take effect from 1st March, 1836, should the Senate at their next session advise and consent thereto," &c. Subsequently, on the 24th January, 1845, President Tyler, on the further examination of this case, decided "that the case was not one for reappointment, but for restoration, or, more plainly to speak, of recognition," and that he did not regard it necessary to submit the matter to the Senate; and he likewise decided that the case was governed by "General Order" No. 43, dated June 28, 1836. Mr. Schaumburg continued in service under those orders of President Tyler till March 24, 1845, when, by the order of the present Chief Magistrate, reciting that his name had been irregularly placed at the head of the first lieutenants of First Dragoons, in the last official Army Register, it be erased from the same, but without reproach to Mr. Schaumburg.

This order of the President was made in pursuance of, and in compliance with, a resolution of the Senate, adopted by a vote of 35 yeas to 2 nays, on the 19th of March, 1845, and which declared that the order of President Tyler restoring Mr. Schaumburg to the Army (recited as made 13th January, 1845) was illegal and void, and that his name ought not to be continued on the rolls of the Army.

This resolution was induced by, and was the result of, proceedings introduced on the 26th of February, 1845, in the course of which two reports were made by the Committee on Military Affairs of the Senate, to which the subject had been referred, adverse to Mr. S.'s claims. [Vide Senate Docs., vol. 11, No. 176, 2d sess., 28th Cong., 1845.] The high character of that committee, and their knowledge of military affairs and of military law, would cause the present committee to hesitate before they ventured to express a different opinion, were it not manifest to them that when the case was before the former committee the examination made was ex parte; Lieutenant Schaumburg was not heard, and had no opportunity of being heard, before that committee; and that many of the most important facts were not submitted to their consideration, and which facts are now exhibited in this report, and which, it is submitted, give a different aspect to the case. In the opinion of the military committee, that the restoration of Lieutenant Schaumburg, if made on the General Order No. 43, was not a legal construction of that order, we coincide fully.

This committee, however, regard his right to restoration, without invoking Order No. 43, and on the grounds and principles now urged, as one that should be sustained and recognized by the President and Senate; and that a further denial of such recognition would be inexcusable injustice to the memorialist.

The committee, therefore, report the following resolution for the consideration of the Senate and recommend its adoption:

Resolution respecting the restoration of James W. Schaumburg to the Army:

Resolved, by the Senate, That the resolution of the Senate of the 19th March, 1845, respecting James W. Schaumburg, be rescinded and repealed; and that the order of the President of the 22d of March, 1845, founded thereon, should be revoked; and that said James W. Schaumburg should be restored to his rank and position in the Army which he would have had if he had not been illegally excluded from the Army roll in the year 1836; and that a copy of this resolution, and the report accompanying the same, be laid before the President, in order that, if he agree therewith, he restore said James W. Schaumburg accordingly to the Army.

WASHINGTON, February 26, 1847.

WAR DEPARTMENT, February 26, 1847.

SIR: I have the honor respectfully to propose for your approbation the annexed list of officers for regular promotion, and persons for appointment in the Army of the United States:

It having been decided to be just and proper to restore Grafton D. Hanson, late a lieutenant in the Eighth Infantry, to his former regiment and rank, whose resignation was accepted in June, 1845, contrary to his wish, he having in due time recalled the same, it will be seen that he is reappointed accordingly. I deem it proper to state that the vacancy of first lieutenant in the Eighth Infantry, now proposed to be filled by Mr. Hanson's restoration and reappointment, has been occasioned by the appointment of the senior captain of the regiment to be major under the recent act authorizing an additional major to each regiment, being an original vacancy, and therefore the less reason for any objection in respect to the general principles and usages of the service, which guarantee regular promotions to fill vacancies which occur by accident, &c.

I am, sir, with great respect, your obedient servant,

W. L. MARCY.

To the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, 2d March, 1847.

To the Senate of the United States :

I communicate herewith a report of the Secretary of War, with the accompanying documents, in answer to the resolution of the Senate of the 27th ultimo, requesting to be informed "why the name of Captain Theophilus H. Holmes was not sent in for brevet promotion amongst the other officers who distinguished themselves at the military operations at Monterey."

The report of the Secretary of War discloses the reasons for the omission of the name of Captain Holmes in the list of brevet promotions in my message of the ——— ultimo. Upon the additional testimony in Captain Holmes's case which has been received at the War Department, and to which the Secretary of War refers in his report, I deem it proper to nominate him for brevet promotion.

I therefore nominate Captain Theophilus H. Holmes, of the 7th Regiment of Infantry, to be major by brevet, from the 23d September, 1846, in the Army of the United States.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, March 2d, 1847.

WAR DEPARTMENT, March 1st, 1847.

SIR: With a special reference to the resolution of the Senate, of the 27th ultimo, requesting to be informed "why the name of Captain Theophilus H. Holmes was not sent in for brevet promotion amongst the other officers who distinguished themselves at the military operations at Monterey," I have again examined the official reports of those operations. I do not find that Captain Holmes is mentioned in General Taylor's report, nor in that of any other officer except the report of Brigadier-General Worth. The following extract from the latter contains all that is said having relation to the conduct of Captain Holmes:

"My thanks are also especially due to Lieut. Colonel Stanford, 8th (commanding 1st brigade); Major Munroe, chief of artillery (general staff); Brevet Major Brown and Captain J. R. Vinton, artillery battalion; Captain J. B. Scott, artillery battalion (light troops); Major Scott, commanding, and Captain Merrill, 5th; Captain Miles (commanding), Holmes and Ross, 7th Infantry; and Captain Scriven, commanding 8th Infantry; to Lieut. Colonel Walker (captain of rifles); Major Chevalier and Captain McCulloch, of the Texan, and Captain Blanchard, of the Louisiana Volunteers; to Lieutenant Mackall (commanding battery); Roland, Martin, Hays, Irons, Clark, and Curd, horse artillery; Lieutenant Longstreet, commanding light company 8th; Lieut. Ayers, artillery battalion, who was among the first in the assault upon the place and who secured the colors. Each of the officers named either headed special detachments, columns of attack, storming parties, or detached guns; and all were conspicuous for conduct and courage."

It will be perceived that in this list there are twenty-one officers (besides the medical staff and officers of volunteers) who are highly commended by General Worth for gallant conduct. That they were justly entitled to the praise bestowed on them is not doubted; but if I had recommended all of them to be brevetted, together with all those in the reports of other generals, also in like manner highly commended, the number of officers in my list submitted for your consideration would have been probably trebled. Indeed, the whole Army behaved most gallantly on that occasion. It was deemed proper to discriminate and select from among the well-deserving those who had peculiar claims to distinction. In making this selection I exercised my best judgment, regarding the official reports as the authentic source of information. Six or seven only of the officers named in the foregoing extract from General Worth's report were placed on the list. A close examination of the reports will, I think, disclose the ground for the discrimination, and, I hope, justify the distinction which I felt it my duty to make. Without disparagement to Captain Holmes, whose conduct was highly creditable, it appears to me that a rule of selection which would have brought him upon the list for promotion by brevet would also have placed on the same list nearly every one named with him in General Worth's report, and many on the reports of other generals not presented in my report to you of the 19th ultimo. There is not time before the adjournment of the Senate to make the thorough examination which a due regard to the relative claims of the gallant officers engaged in the the actions of Monterey would require if the list of brevet promotions is to be enlarged to this extent. Such enlargement would not accord with my own views on the subject of bestowing brevet rewards.

There are on file other papers relative to Captain Holmes. They were not written with reference to his brevet promotion, but for an appointment in the new regiments. Copies of those are herewith transmitted. The letter of the Hon'ble W. P. Mangum, inclosing the statement from Generals Twiggs and Smith, is dated the 26th, and my report the 19th, ultimo, and was not, consequently, received at this Department until some days after the list for brevets was made out and presented to you.

From the facts and recommendations of the the official reports of the actions at Monterey, I should not feel warranted in presenting Captain Holmes for brevet promotion, without, at the same time, including, on the same list, many others not recommended in my report of the 19th ultimo; but as his conduct fell under the immediate observation of General Smith (General Twiggs commanded in a different part of the town) it may be proper to regard their statement, received since my former report was prepared and handed to you, as additional evidence of his gallantry and of claims to your particular notice. I therefore recommend him to be promoted major by brevet.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obed't serv't,

W. L. MARCY.

Secretary of War.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 18, 1846.

SIR: Enclosed is a letter forwarded to me some time ago, with a request that it should be delivered to the Secretary in case authority should be given by Congress to raise an additional regiment. An act having passed for that purpose, I now comply with the request of Capt. Holmes, who desires promotion in the new regiment. I have also a letter from Col. Twiggs, of the 2d Dragoons, who states that Capt. Holmes "is a graduate of the Military Academy, that he entered the service in 1829, and consequently has served seventeen years in the Army, mostly in Florida and on the western frontier. I have known him for a number of years, and upon occasions have had him under my immediate command in the field in Florida. His energy, activity, and intelligence commended him to my highest consideration and confidence." Such is the language of Col. Twiggs. You will please to place the name of Capt. Holmes on the list of applicants for promotion, &c.

Yours, respectfully,

J. J. McKAY.

SIR: Should Congress during the present session authorize an increase of the Army by raising additional regiments, I have very respectfully to request that you will consider me an applicant for the appointment of lieutenant-colonel.

I am, sir, very respectfully, your ob't serv't,

CORPUS CHRISTIE, TEXAS, January 22d, 1846.

SIR: Observing from the public journals that a resolution has been moved in Congress by the chairman of the Military Committee of the House of Representatives to increase the Army by raising two additional regiments, & Capt. Theophilus H. Holmes, of the seventh U. States Infantry, having intimated through a friend a wish to enter one of said regiments, with additional rank, particularly if organized as riflemen, I take much pleasure, most respectfully, in recommending him as one of the field officers of the same should one or more be authorized by law. Capt. H. is an officer of high merit, in the vigor of life, and besides being a graduate of West Point, has seen much service in the West and South, is hardy, active, discreet, and intelligent, and in my humble opinion well qualified for promotion to such rank as the Department may think proper to confer on him, the duties of which, I have no hesitation in saying, he will discharge with zeal and ability as regards the interest of the service and country, as well as to the entire satisfaction of all concerned.

With considerations of great respect, your ob't serv't,

OSWEGO, N. Y., January 28, 1846.

SIR: As I perceive by the proceedings of Congress that there is a probability of one or more regiments of dragoons, or mounted riflemen, being organized in the United States Army, and as I understand it is customary to take the higher officers from among those in commission in the Army, I have presumed on our former acquaintance in Connecticut to ask of you in case that event should take place the favorable consideration of the claims of a connexion of mine, Capt. Theophilus Holmes, of the 7th Infantry, for a commission as major in such a regiment, should it be raised.

Captain Holmes has been fifteen years in the Army, has served for some time in Florida, and is now in Texas. He is a gentleman of the most correct moral character, and has ever the reputation of a brave and accomplished soldier. He is a native of the State of North Carolina, of which State his father was a Democratic governor, and from which State there will probably be but few applications for commissions. His relatives there are of the Democratic party, and are persons of considerable influence in their own State.

If you can consistently grant the wishes of his friends on this subject you will be the means of rewarding a brave and valuable officer, and very much oblige his numerous friends as well as myself.

I have the honor, to be, with great respect, your obedient servant,
ANDREW MATHER,
Capt., U. S. Rev. Marine.

Hon. WILLIAM L. MARCY,
Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.

SENATE CHAMBER,
26th February, 1847.

SIR: I send herewith several letters and statements in regard to Captain Holmes, of the Army. They seem to me strong, and make a case that I hope will move the Department to a most favorable consideration of it. Captain Holmes is a North Carolinian, son of the late General Holmes, and has a very extensive connexion in that State of the highest respectability, all of whom (himself included) the decided friends of the administration.

Without the slightest regard to the latter consideration, I feel proud of Captain Holmes, as a North Carolinian, and most naturally desire to see his merits fully appreciated, and as a consequence I desire to see him enjoy the appropriate rewards as well as to wear the honors he has won by his gallantry, skill, and efficiency as an officer.

With the highest respect, I am, sir, your mo. ob't serv't,

WILLIE P. MANGUM.

The Hon. WM. L. MARCY,
Secretary of War.

CAMP NEAR TAMPICO,
January 27, 1847.

Anticipating the increase of the Regular Army, as recommended to Congress by the President, we respectfully present the name of Captain Theophilus H. Holmes, of North Carolina, now commanding a company of the 7th Regiment of Infantry, for the appointment of a field officer in one of the new regiments. Captain Holmes shared in the protracted and gallant defense of Fort Brown, and led his company in the attack on the heights of Monterey and on that city, and was distinguished there for his cool and gallant conduct. In the discharge of his duties as captain he is remarkable for his punctuality and incessant attention, firm and just to all under his command, respected and esteemed by those above him in grade, he combines in a remarkable degree all the qualities necessary for the place we have mentioned. He is capable of enduring all the hardships of war and will be, if appointed, a most efficient and useful officer, and to this we testify from our own personal knowledge and experience, having had every opportunity during the late operations here of observing his conduct under all circumstances.

CAMP NEAR TAMPICO, MEXICO,
27 January, 1847.

MY DEAR SIR: I hope you will excuse the liberty I take in addressing to you the accompanying letter and application for promotion in a new regiment, as also the request that you will cause them to be presented in the manner best calculated to attain their object. I make the application because it is extremely painful for one who has devoted his life to the acquisition of professional requirements to be kept stationary while others, without experience, or superiority of any sort, are invested with the rank and authority which is the only object of a zealous soldier's ambition. In addition to this, I take much pleasure in inclosing the letter of Genl's Twiggs and Smith to you, because it was entirely unsolicited, and I am very anxious that you should consider me as one not entirely unworthy.

Be pleased, my dear sir, to request for me the kind remembrance of your excellent lady, and be assured of the grateful consideration of

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, January 24, 1848.

[Confidential.]

To the Senate of the United States :

I herewith communicate to the Senate, for its consideration, a declaration of the Government of the Grand Duchy of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, bearing date at the city of Schwerin, on the 9th December, 1847, acceding substantially to the stipulations of our treaty of commerce and navigation with Hanover of the 10th June, 1846.

Under the twelfth article of this treaty "the United States agree to extend all the advantages and privileges contained in the stipulations of the present treaty to one or more of the other states of the Germanic Confederation which may wish to accede to them, by means of an official exchange of declarations: Provided, That such state or states shall confer similar favors upon the said United States to those conferred by the Kingdom of Hanover, and observe and be subject to the same conditions, stipulations, and obligations."

This declaration of the Grand Duchy of Mecklenburg-Schwerin is submitted to the Senate, because in its 8th and 11th articles it is not the same in terms with the corresponding articles of our treaty with Hanover. The variations, however, are deemed unimportant, whilst the admission of our "paddy," or rice in the husk, into Mecklenburg-Schwerin free of import duty, is an important concession not contained in the Hanoverian treaty. Others might be mentioned which will appear upon inspection. Still, as the stipulations in the two articles just mentioned in the declaration are not the same as those contained in the corresponding articles of our treaty with Hanover, I deem it proper to submit this declaration to the Senate for their consideration before issuing a proclamation to give it effect.

I also communicate a dispatch from the special agent on the part of the United States, which accompanied the declaration.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1848.

The following messages were received from the President of the United States, by Mr. Walker, his secretary:

To the Senate of the United States:

I nominate Second Lieutenant John J. Peck, of the Second Regiment of Artillery, for promotion as first lieutenant in the same, to date from March 3, 1847, as proposed by the Secretary of War.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, January 28, 1848.

WAR DEPARTMENT, January 27, 1848.

SIR: I have the honor to lay before you a communication from the Adjutant-General in reference to the accidental omission of the name of Lieutenant J. J. Peck, of the Second Artillery, on the general list of promotions in the Army, submitted for the Senate's confirmation the 17th ultimo, and I respectfully recommend that the omission be rectified in the manner proposed by the Adjutant-General.

I am, sir, with great respect, your ob't serv't,

W. L. MARCY.

To the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, January 27, 1848.

SIR: In the general list of promotions and appointments in the Army, prepared at this office, and submitted for the Senate's confirmation the 17th ultimo, it appears the name of 1st Lieutenant John J. Peck, 2d Artillery, was inadvertently left out. The omission occurred in this way: Among the promotions consequent upon the addition of two companies to each of the regiments of artillery by the act of the 3d of March last, was that of 2d Lieutenant David Gibson, 2d Artillery, to be 1st lieutenant, to date from the passage of the act. A few days afterward, however, official information was received of Lieut. Gibson's having died on the 6th of February preceding, and Lieutenant Peck, the next on the list, was advanced to the vacancy with the same date, and was so announced in "General Orders," No. 10, of March 12, 1847. The particular date in this case (March 3d) induced the belief in making up the general list that Lieut. Peck had already been confirmed, and under that impression, and without examining into the matter more closely, his name was omitted, as above stated. I now respectfully propose that the omission be rectified by nominating him for promotion, as follows:

Second Regiment of Artillery.

Second Lieutenant John J. Peck to be first lieutenant, March 3, 1847, to fill an original vacancy.

Respectfully submitted.

B. JONES,
Adj't Gen'l.

Hon. W. L. MARCY,

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, January 29, 1848.

WAR DEPARTMENT, January 29, 1848.

SIR: I have the honor to lay before you a communication from the Adjutant-General in reference to the changes of the dates of commission of certain officers in the 3d Regiment of Artillery, rendered necessary by the death of Lieutenant C. J. Minor, who was recently confirmed as a 1st lieutenant in that regiment, but, as it appears, had died in California prior to the date of his promotion; and consequently the date given to him should have been assigned to the next on the list, and so on in succession. I respectfully recommend that the proper corrections be made, as proposed by the Adjutant-General, now rendered necessary by reason of the unknown death of the officer at the time his promotion was duly carried up.

I am, sir, with great respect, your ob't serv't,

W. L. MARCY.

To the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

tenant Minor to have died in Monterey, California, the 17th of August last, being prior to the date given him as 1st lieutenant, and the next officer on the list was consequently entitled to the promotion. I append hereto a list of the changes of dates consequent upon the death of Lieutenant Minor, and respectfully recommend that the several officers be nominated to the Senate for promotion accordingly:

Third Regiment of Artillery.

To the Senate of the United States :

entitled "An act supplementary to an act entitled 'An act providing for the prosecution of the existing war between the United States and the Republic of Mexico,' and for other purposes."

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, February 17th, 1848.

To the Senate of the United States :

I lay before the Senate, for their consideration and advice as to its ratification, a treaty of peace, friendship, limits and settlement, signed at the city of Guadalupe Hidalgo, on the second day of February, 1848, by N. P. Trist, on the part of the United States, and by plenipotentiaries appointed for that purpose on the part of the Mexican Government.

I deem it to be my duty to state that the recall of Mr. Trist as Commissioner of the United States, of which Congress was informed in my annual message, was dictated by a belief that his continued presence with the Army could be productive of no good, but might do much harm by encouraging the delusive hopes and false impressions of the Mexicans; and that his recall would satisfy Mexico that the United States has no terms of peace more favorable to offer. Directions were given that any propositions for peace which Mexico might make should be received and transmitted by the commanding general of our forces to the United States.

It was not expected that Mr. Trist would remain in Mexico, or continue in the exercise of the functions of the office of Commissioner after he received his letter of recall. He has, however, done so, and the plenipotentiaries of the Government of Mexico, with a knowledge of the fact, have concluded with him this treaty. I have examined it with a full sense of the extraneous circumstances attending its conclusion and signature, which might be objected to, but conforming, as it does, substantially, on the main questions of boundary and indemnity, to the terms which our Commissioner; when he left the United States in April last, was authorized to offer; and animated, as I am, by the spirit which has governed all my official conduct towards Mexico, I have felt it to be my duty to submit it to the Senate for their consideration, with a view to its ratification.

To the tenth article of the treaty there are serious objections, and no instructions given to Mr. Trist contemplated or authorized its insertion. The public lands within the limits of Texas belong to that State, and this Government has no power to dispose of them or to change the conditions of grants already made. All valid titles to land within the other territories ceded to the United States will remain, unaffected by the change of sovereignty; and I therefore submit that this article should not be ratified as a part of the treaty.

There may be reason to apprehend that the ratification of the "additional and secret article" might unreasonably delay and embarrass the final action on the treaty by Mexico. I therefore submit whether that article should not be rejected by the Senate.

If the treaty shall be ratified as proposed to be amended, the cessions of territory made by it to the United States as indemnity, the provision for the satisfaction of the claims of our injured citizens, and the permanent establishment of the boundary of one of the States of the Union are objects gained of great national importance, while the magnanimous forbearance exhibited towards Mexico, it is hoped, may insure a lasting peace and good neighborhood between the two countries.

I communicate herewith a copy of the instructions given to Mr. Slidell in November, 1845, as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Mexico; a copy of the instructions given to Mr. Trist in April last, and such of the correspondence of the latter with the Department of State, not hitherto communicated to Congress, as will enable the Senate to understand the action which has been had with a view to the adjustment of our difficulties with Mexico.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1848.

The following message was received from the President of the United States, by Mr. Walker, his secretary:

To the Senate of the United States:

I nominate Cameron Anderson, of Florida, to be a purser in the Navy, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Purser Quentin Busbee.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, February 21st, 1848.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, February 21st, 1848.

SIR: I have the honor to submit to you a nomination of Cameron Anderson, of Florida, to be a purser in the Navy, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Purser Quentin Busbee.

I am, very respectfully, y^r ob^t ser^t,

J. Y. MASON.

The PRESIDENT.

The message was read

Ordered, That the nomination of Cameron Anderson be referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

Mr. Sevier, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, to whom was referred, the 23d instant, the treaty of peace, friendship, limits, and settlement between the United States of America and the Mexican Republic, concluded at Guadalupe Hidalgo on the 2d day of February, in the year 1848, reported it without amendment.

Mr. Webster submitted the following resolution for consideration :

Resolved, That the further consideration of the message of the President of the United States of the 22d of February, 1848, be postponed; and that it be recommended to the President of the United States immediately to nominate commissioners plenipotentiary, not fewer than three, to proceed to Mexico, for the purpose of negotiating with the Republic of Mexico a treaty of peace, boundaries, and indemnities due to America citizens.

Mr. Houston submitted the following resolution for consideration :

Whereas the President of the United States did, on the 23d instant, submit to the Senate an instrument purporting to be a treaty between the Government of the United States and the Republic of Mexico, signed at Guadalupe Hidalgo on the second day of the present month, by Nicholas P. Trist, falsely assuming to act under the authority of the President of the United States, and Louis G. Guevas, Bernardo Conto, and Mig. Atristain, pretending to act by the authority of Mexico; and

Whereas the said N. P. Trist was, at the time of signing said instrument, acting contumaciously and in direct violation of the orders of his Government recalling him, which orders he had communicated to the Mexican authorities; and

Whereas the said instrument having been signed by a person falsely representing himself as a minister of this Government, while acting in violation of his instructions, the laws of the land, and the Constitution of this Union, and to the great scandal of our national character, renders the said instrument utterly void and ineffectual; it would, therefore, be dangerous, if not ruinous, for the Senate, by their decision, to sanction such a flagrant disregard of the institutions of the country, as it would be holding out inducements to similar acts by vicious men, who may be actuated by the most corrupt and treasonable intentions against the liberties of the country; and,

Whereas the very peculiar circumstances under which the said instrument was concluded do not leave it free from well-grounded suspicion of the interference of agents of other powers not parties to the instrument, and whose interests are adverse to those of the United States; and, further, it is manifest, from the correspondence before the Senate, that information affecting the character of the country, as well as the instrument itself, is not before this body, and as the individual who sent the same has promised much matter with the duplicate, which is to arrive soon; and

Whereas it has been declared to be the object of the present war to obtain "indemnity for the past and security for the future," and as it is most probable that the domain proposed to be ceded by Mr. Trist's agreement is all granted by Mexico, or will be covered by fraudulent grants if the agreement should become a treaty, leaving to the United States more civil and political jurisdiction of the same, while it would be encumbered by conditions relative to the Indians which would be worth more, in a pecuniary point of view, than all the vacant land acquired, and which would leave the Government of the United States no indemnity in honor for the lives of its gallant sons who have fallen, no indemnity for the millions expended, nor for the blur which must dim the luster of our national escutcheon; and

Whereas the conduct of the authorities of Mexico has been such as to justify this Government to treat her as a conquered people, and to claim a full indemnity for all the injuries which we as a nation have sustained from her since she has claimed to be a republic; it would, therefore, be but just to the nation and beneficent to those of her people who would fall thereby into the United States, that the line of the portion of territory to be claimed should begin one league south of Tampico, on the sea-shore, and from thence running in a straight line west-northwest from the beginning and passing one league south of San Luis Potosi to the summit of the main ridge of the Sierra Madre, and thence northwest along the said ridge of the Sierra until it strikes the 25th degree of north latitude, and then with said degree or parallel west until it reaches the eastern line of Lower California, thence pursuing said line south and west until it reaches the Pacific Ocean, including such islands as may lie within six leagues of the shore, acquired by the United States as a "just indemnity for the past"; and

Whereas it is not probable or even to be supposed that Mexico will be able to establish and maintain order for the future; it is then proper and will be wisdom to retain possession of Vera Cruz and the cattle of San Juan d'Ulloa, to be garrisoned by a force sufficient for its defense, and other points if needful, as "security for the future," until Mexico shall manifest her capacity or incapacity for self-government, so that foreign powers may not have a pretext for interference in the policy of nations upon this continent, and if they should attempt to interfere that the United States will be in a condition to vindicate her rights and national honor; and

Whereas if Mexico is acting in good faith and is disposed to carry out the agreement now before the Senate for its action, the Executive has power to send an authorized agent or agents and give such instructions as he may advise, and thereby rebuke the audacious interference of unauthorized agents in the diplomacy of our country, and prevent a like transaction, or to send a gentleman whose intelligence and integrity will restrain him from attempting any violation of the rights or territory of any sovereign State of this Union: Therefore,

Resolved, That the before-described agreement be rejected by the Senate.

Mr. Baldwin submitted a resolution; which, having been considered, by unanimous consent, was, on motion by Mr. Dickinson, amended and agreed to, as follows:

Resolved, That the President be requested to communicate to the Senate, in confidence, the entire correspondence between Mr. Trist and the Mexican commissioners, from the time of his arrival in Mexico until the time of the negotiation of the treaty submitted to the Senate; and also the entire correspondence between Mr. Trist and the Secretary of State in relation to his negotiations with the Mexican commissioners; also all the correspondence between General Scott and the Government and between General Scott and Mr. Trist since the arrival of Mr. Trist in Mexico, which may be in the possession of the Government.

Ordered, That the Secretary lay the said resolution before the President of the United States.

On motion by Mr. Johnson, of Maryland,

Ordered, That the Secretary of the Senate purchase for the use of the Senate one hundred copies of J. Disturnell's map of the United Mexican States, published at New York in 1847.

Mr. Lewis submitted the following resolution; which was considered, by unanimous consent, and agreed to:

Resolved, That the President of the United States be requested to communicate to the Senate any information he may at any time have received of the desire of any considerable portion of the people of any of the States of Mexico to be incorporated within the limits of any territory to be acquired from the Republic of Mexico, and particularly that he communicate any late proposition which has been made to that effect through General Wool or any other military officer in Mexico, so far as the same may be communicated without detriment to the public service.

Mr. Breese, from the Committee on Public Lands, to whom were referred, the 23d instant, the nominations of George Jefferies and George McHenry, reported.

Whereupon

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointment of the said persons, agreeably to their nominations respectively.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 29, 1848.

The following message was received from the President of the United States, by Mr. Walker, his secretary:

[Confidential.]

To the Senate of the United States:

In compliance with the resolution of the Senate passed in "executive session" on yesterday, requesting the President "to communicate to the Senate, in confidence, the entire correspondence between Mr. Trist and the Mexican commissioners, from the time of his arrival in Mexico until the time of the negotiation of the treaty submitted to the Senate; and also the entire correspondence between Mr. Trist and the Secretary of State in relation to his negotiations with the Mexican commissioners; also all the correspondence between General Scott and the Government and between General Scott and Mr. Trist since the arrival of Mr. Trist in Mexico, which may be in the possession of the Government," I transmit herewith the correspondence called for. These documents are very voluminous, and presuming that the Senate desired them in reference to early action on the treaty with Mexico submitted to the consideration of that body by my message of the 22d instant, the originals of several of the letters of Mr. Trist are herewith communicated, in order to save the time which would necessarily be required to make copies of them. These original letters it is requested may be returned when the Senate shall have no farther use for them.

The letters of Mr. Trist to the Secretary of State, and especially such of them as bear date subsequent to the receipt by him of his letter of recall as commissioner, it will be perceived, contain much matter that is impertinent irrelevant, and highly exceptionable. Four of these letters, bearing date respectively the 29th December, 1847, January 12th, January 22d, and January 25th, 1848, have been received since the treaty was submitted to the Senate. In the latter it is stated that the Mexican commissioners who signed the treaty derived "their full powers, bearing date on the 30th December, 1847, from the President ad interim of the Republic (General Anaya), constitutionally elected to that office in November by the Sovereign Constituent Congress" of Mexico. It is impossible that I can approve the conduct of Mr. Trist in disobeying the positive orders of his Government contained in the letter recalling him, or do otherwise than condemn much of the matter with which he has chosen to incumber his voluminous correspondence. Though all of his acts since his recall might have been disavowed by his Government, yet Mexico can take no such exception. The treaty which the Mexican commissioners have negotiated with him, with a full knowledge on their part that he had been recalled from his mission, is binding on Mexico.

Looking at the actual condition of Mexico, and believing that if the present treaty be rejected the war will probably be continued, at great expense life and treasure, for an indefinite period, and considering that the terms, with the exceptions mentioned in my message of the 22d instant, conform substantially, so far as relates to the main question of boundary, to those authorized by me in April last, I considered it to be my solemn duty to the country, uninfluenced by the exceptionable conduct of Mr. Trist, to submit the treaty to the Senate with a recommendation that it be ratified, with the modifications suggested.

Nothing contained in the letters received from Mr. Trist since it was submitted to the Senate has changed my opinion on the subject.

The resolution also calls for "all the correspondence between General Scott and the Government since the arrival of Mr. Trist in Mexico." A portion of that correspondence, relating to Mr. Trist and his mission, accompanies this communication. The remainder of the "correspondence between General Scott and the Government," relates mainly, if not exclusively, to military operations. A part of it was communicated to Congress with my annual message, and the whole of it will be sent to the Senate if it shall be desired by that body. As coming within the purview of the resolution, I also communicate copies of the letters of the Secretary of War to Major-General Butler in reference to Mr. Trist's remaining at the headquarters of the Army in the assumed exercise of his powers of commissioner.

JAMES K. POLK.

On motion by Mr. Sevier,

Ordered, That the Secretary withdraw from the printer the message and documents which were on the 29th February ordered to be printed in confidence for the use of the Senate.

On motion by Mr. Sevier,

Ordered, That the message, with the accompanying documents, except those received from Nathaniel P. Trist, be printed in confidence for the use of the Senate, and that the latter be referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Mr. Crittenden submitted the following resolution:

Resolved, That the treaty be recommitted to the Committee on Foreign Relations, with instructions so to modify the same as to make its limits and boundaries conform to the following resolutions.

Resolved, That considerations of our own power and the weakness of Mexico, already vanquished by our arms, ought only to make us more careful not to exact from her any indemnities or terms of peace beyond the strict measure of our rightful claims; and that the United States need not to seek or desire any other or better security for the future than they possess in their own ability and readiness to protect themselves and defend their own rights.

Resolved, That we fully concur in the sentiment expressed by the President, that war should not be waged for acquisition of territory by conquest; yet if it be agreeable to Mexico to settle our claims against her by a cession of territory, we should prefer one of more limited extent (with a correspondent reduction of price) than that described in the treaty now before the Senate—a cession which should have for its principal objects a satisfactory establishment of the boundary of Texas and the acquisition of the bay and harbor of San Francisco.

Resolved, That by adhering to this limited cession all the objects of a true national policy would be obtained, domestic questions of great difficulty and embarrassment avoided, the true principles of our Government preserved, and a commendable example of justice and moderation set before the world.

Resolved, That in an especial manner we could not without great reluctance be constrained to accept the cession of the State of New Mexico, with a population of about one hundred and fifty thousand hostile people, unwilling to be united to us and unfit to be trusted with a participation in our free forms of government, to the principles of which they are utter strangers. To accept the cession of this territory, large enough and even at the present moment with population enough to form one or more States, and to incorporate them, as the treaty provides, as soon as possible into this Union, must be regarded as a measure dangerous and not believed to be in accordance with the wishes and expectations of the great majority of the people of the United States.

On motion by Mr. Crittenden that the Senate proceed to consider the said resolution,

Mr. Douglas having objected,

The Vice-President decided that the resolution must lie on the table one day for consideration.

From this decision of the Vice-President Mr. Bright appealed to the Senate; and

Mr. Atchison, from the Committee on Indian Affairs, to whom was referred, the 30th December last, the articles of a treaty made and concluded at the Fond du Lac of Lake Superior, on the 2d day of August, in the year 1847, between the United States by their commissioners Isaac A. Verplank and Henry M. Rice, and the Chippewa Indians of the Mississippi and Lake Superior, by their chiefs and headmen, reported the same with amendments; which were read.

Mr. Breese, from the Committee on Public Lands, to whom were referred, the 22d instant, the nominations of William N. Whitehurst, Richard Whiting, and John S. Houze, reported.

Whereupon

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointment of the said persons, agreeably to their nominations respectively.

Mr. Badger, from the Committee on Military Affairs, to whom was referred, the 12th January, the memorial of James W. Schaumburg, made the following report:

The Committee on Military Affairs, to whom was referred the memorial of James W. Schaumburg, respecting his claim to be recognized as an officer of the Army, report:

That the memorialist claims to be an officer in the First Regiment of Dragoons, alleges that his claim has been unjustly disregarded, and prays, in substance, that he may be recognized as being, and having been since the year 1836, an officer in that regiment; and that his rights in the premises, so unjustly withheld from him, may, by some proper proceeding on the part of the Senate, be restored and secured to him.

The facts of the case, so far as, in the judgment of the committee, it is necessary to refer to them in order to a disposition of the memorialist's application, are these: In the year 1836 the memorialist was a second lieutenant in the First Regiment of Dragoons, and in that year his name was, by an order or under the authority of the War Department, for reasons not necessary to be stated, omitted from the roll of the Army; that in January, 1845, the then President of the United States decided that the memorialist had never been out of the Army, and ordered him to be recognized as an officer, taking rank at the head of the first lieutenants of the First Regiment of Dragoons; that afterwards, on the 26th February, 1845, the Senate adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Secretary of War be directed to inform the Senate how it happens that the name of James W. Schaumburg appears in the Army Register as a lieutenant in the First Regiment of Dragoons after it has been so long omitted, and by what authority it has been replaced, and whether it was not omitted in consequence of his resignation; or, if not, that he inform the Senate why it was heretofore omitted, and why it has been replaced."

That afterwards, a report having been made by the Secretary of War in answer to the resolution, the said report and papers accompanying it were on the 5th of March, 1845, referred to the Committee on Military Affairs; that on the 10th of that month other papers relating to the case of the memorialist were referred to that committee; that the committee on the 12th of that month made a written report, concluding with, and recommending the adoption of, a resolution in these words:

"Resolved, That the order of the late President of the 13th January, 1845, directing James W. Schaumburg to be restored to the Army, and to be recognized as an officer therein, is illegal and void; and that the name of the said James W. Schaumburg ought not to be continued on the roll of the Army."

That thereupon the Senate came to the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Secretary of War be directed to furnish the Senate a copy of all the correspondence and proceedings on file in the War Department in any manner connected with the resignation and restoration of Lieutenant James W. Schaumburg, of the United States Dragoons, and also to inform the Senate whether Lieutenant Schaumburg has been allowed to receive any pay as an officer in the Army since the year anno Domini 1836."

That afterwards, a report in answer to this resolution having been laid before the Senate, the same was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs, and their report, with the documents theretofore referred, was recommitted to that committee; that on the 19th of March the committee reported that the additional matter referred to them contained much to confirm their former report, and recommended the adoption of the resolution by that committee first reported; that the Senate thereupon proceeded to the consideration of the reports from the said committee; and, after debate, resolved as follows:

"Resolved, That the order of the late President of 13th January, 1845, directing James W. Schaumburg to be restored to the Army, and to be recognized as an officer therein, is illegal and void; and that the name of the said James W. Schaumburg ought not to be continued on the roll of the Army."

“Ordered, That the Secretary lay a copy of this resolution before the President of the United States.”

And that the President, in accordance with this resolution of the Senate, caused the name of the memorialist to be dropped from the roll of the Army, and has not since recognized him as an officer thereof.

It seems plain, upon the foregoing statement, that the prayer of the memorialist cannot be granted without rescinding the resolution and reversing the decision of the Senate upon his case. He claims nothing in consequence of anything which has happened since that decision, but rests his right to relief upon the ground that the decision was at the time erroneous; and being ex parte, or without notice to him, is not binding.

The decision of the Senate was upon the very question now submitted by the memorialist—a decision upon a claim of right; he alleging that he was in 1836, and had continually thereafter been, an officer of the Army, whose name had been in that year improperly dropped from the roll, and properly restored by the President's order of January 13th, 1845. If this allegation be true, then the decision of the Senate was wrong; and hence it follows that in order to give him what he claims—recognition as an officer—the decision of the Senate must be reversed, because plainly the Senate cannot upon such a question have on its Journal two independent and conflicting determinations.

The committee is of opinion that the Senate ought not to re-examine their decision, which is in the nature of a judicial sentence upon a question of right, made by the only tribunal competent to entertain the question, and when approved by the President of the United States, becoming the complete adjudication of that authority which is supreme over the subject under the Constitution and laws of the United States—an adjudication in this case not only pronounced, but carried into full execution. It is obvious that if such a decision can be re-examined, as a matter of course, upon the application of the person supposing himself aggrieved thereby, there will remain no assurance of rank—no guarantee against repeated fluctuations of decision as to the persons who compose the officers of a regiment, and the rank they hold relatively to each other—a state of insecurity of the very worst consequence to the spirit, the honor, and the efficiency of the Army. The memorialist has therefore insisted on the propriety of re-examining the decision of the Senate because of the proceedings being ex parte as to him. The committee is of opinion that the want of notice to him, if he had in fact no notice, constitutes no ground for such re-examination.

The Senate finding the name of a person on the Register of the Army as an officer of the First Regiment of Dragoons, which for nine years has not appeared there, very properly, in the exercise of a just authority, in a spirit of considerate regard for the honor of the Army, and in vindication of its constitutional rights, instituted an investigation into the reasons of this insertion on the Register of the name of one as holding an office to which no appointment could be made without its assent. The question was regularly before the Senate; their jurisdiction of it was undoubted. How far it was either necessary or proper to notify any one of its proceedings was a question addressed to the sound discretion of the Senate, and the omission to give such notice in no way affects the full legal validity of the decision. When the President of the United States directs an officer to be discharged from the Army, or, as it is sometimes called, “dropped” from the roll, he may or not notify the officer of his purpose, and call on him or not for defense or explanation ; but the effect of his decision is in no way affected by the giving or withholding of such notice. And so, when the Senate institutes an inquiry why a name appears on the Army list, and finds it placed there by what it deems an illegal order of the President, it may, in its discretion, before coming to a decision, either give or not give notice of its proceedings to the person whose name so appears ; but the validity, the full and conclusive force of its decision, is, in either case, the same. It is to be presumed that where notice is proper, notice will be given by the President or the Senate, and where none is given it must be taken that none was properly required.

In the case before the committee it is gratifying to observe that great deliberation was used by the Senate, repeated calls for information made, the report of its Military Committee recommitted, and nothing finally decided until everything which the files of the War Office could furnish had been received and fully considered. Nor is there any reason to suppose, nor does the committee understand the memorialist to allege, that any matters of fact connected with the case, and of real importance in its decision, were unknown or overlooked. His claim rests upon the ground that as he was not a party to the proceeding he ought not to be bound by the conclusions to which the Senate came upon the facts of the case.

But if the decision is to be re-examined at the instance of the memorialist because ex parte as to him, what will follow ? Suppose the Senate should now resolve that he has continually been in the First Regiment of Dragoons, and the President should approve the decision, it follows that he must at once take rank above all those officers who have been promoted to captaincies since his name has been dropped from the roll, and he may in taking his place actually displace or put back some officers to a lower grade than that which they now fill. This decision will be ex parte as to these officers in the same sense in which the former decision was ex parte as to the memorialist. Would the Senate then decline, at their instance, another examination of a question in which their rights and honor were as deeply concerned as those of the memorialist ?

The First Regiment of Dragoons is serving in Mexico, and has been distinguished upon the bloodiest battle fields of that country ; and it might happen that the officers interested might make successive and separate applications for re-examination, which must be entertained if the ground of the present application shall be sustained. When, in this way, can a final adjudication be expected ? Must the Senate cause notifications to issue or publications to be made for all persons interested to come in and be heard ? Or shall the Senate consider its solemn decision once made as conclusive ? The committee is of opinion that the latter is the true and safe position to be assumed. It is best for the Army ; it is, in fact, the only safe rule for the Army. It is certainly possible that the decision of the Senate against the memorialist may have been erroneous, for all bodies of men are liable to error ; but there would, for the same reason, be the likely possibility of error in any decision the Senate may now or hereafter give. And as something must at last be held settled by force of authority, because it is impossible to keep such a question indefinitely open, and because there is no reason to hope a general acquiescence of all who are interested in the question in any decision to which the Senate may come, it is safest, wisest, best, to consider what has been already decided as settled, because it has been decided as an adjudication which is of itself conclusive of the rights of all.

Upon the whole, the committee, without prosecuting this reasoning further and without expressing any opinion upon the merits of the me-morialist's claim as it stood prior to the decision made by the Senate has a clear conviction that that decision ought not to be re-examined, and therefore they recommend to the Senate the adoption of the resolution which accompanies this report.

Resolved, That the resolution of the Senate adopted on the 12th of March, 1845, in these words: "Resolved, That the order of the late President of the 13th January, 1845, directing James W. Schaumburg to be restored to the Army and to be recognized as an officer therein, is illegal and void; and that the name of the said James W. Schaumburg ought not to be continued on the roll of the Army"; and the subsequent approval thereof and giving effect thereto by the President of the United States constitute a full legal determination that James W. Schaumburg was not at the time of the said resolution an officer of the First Regiment of Dragoons: And therefore,

Resolved, That the prayer of the said James W. Schaumburg, in his memorial to the Senate, ought not to be granted.

On motion by Mr. Badger,

Ordered, That the report be printed in confidence for the use of the Senate.

Mr. Niles, from the Committee on the Post-Office and Post-Roads, to whom were referred, the 10th instant, the nomination of Theophilus L. Toulmin, and on the 14th instant those of James Watson, Thomas J. Marvin, and James Belknap, reported.

Whereupon

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointment of the said persons, agreeably to their nominations respectively.

Mr. Cass, from the Committee on Military Affairs, to whom were referred, the 14th instant, the nomination of Reuben M. Potter, and on the 22d instant those of William W. Loring, George B. Crittenden, Thomas Duncan, Francis S. K. Russell, John Glackin, Robert Hopkins, George W. May, Charles Simmons, Francis M. Cummins, Peter H. Bruyere, and Nathaniel Grant, reported.

Whereupon

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointment of the said persons, agreeably to their nominations respectively.

Mr. Hannegan submitted the following resolution; which was considered, by unanimous consent, and agreed to:

Resolved, That a select committee to consist of three members, to be appointed by the Vice-President, be instructed to inquire into the manner and means by which the pending treaty with Mexico and the message of the President and documents transmitted with the treaty have been made public; and that they have power to compel the production of papers and the attendance of witnesses.

And Mr. Bradbury, Mr. Badger, and Mr. Westcott were appointed accordingly.

To the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

To the Senate of the United States:

In answer to the resolution of the Senate of the 17th instant, requesting the President to transmit to that body "a copy of a dispatch to the U. S. consul at Monterey, T. O. Larkin, esq., forwarded in November, 1845, by Capt. Gillespie, of the Marine Corps, and which was by him destroyed before entering the port of Vera Cruz, if a communication of the same be not, in his opinion, incompatible with the public interests," I communicate herewith a report of the Secretary of State, with a copy of the dispatch referred to. The resolution of the Senate appears to have been passed in legislative session. Entertaining the opinion that the publication of this dispatch at this time will not be "compatible with the public interests," but unwilling to withhold from the Senate information deemed important by that body, I communicate a copy of it to the Senate in executive session.

The messages were read.

Ordered, That the nominations for appointment in the Army be referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

The select committee appointed the 23d instant, and instructed to inquire into the manner and means by which the pending treaty with Mexico and the message of the President and documents transmitted with the treaty have been made public, report :

That in fulfillment of the duty enjoined by the resolution the committee notified Mr. John Nugent, who they learned had knowledge of facts in regard to which they were directed to inquire, to appear before them, and upon his appearance they took his examination, which is annexed.

The committee do not deem it necessary to make any recommendation, or for this committee to do more at this time than report the examination and submit the matter to the consideration of the Senate.

EXAMINATION OF JOHN NUGENT.

1st question. Are you the correspondent of the New York Herald?

Answer. I am.

2d question. Do you know from whom the paper was obtained purporting to be a copy of the treaty with Mexico and the amendments in the Senate, published a few days since in the New York Herald?

Answer. I do.

3d question. Was it from a Senator, officer of the Senate, or person connected with the printing of the Senate?

Answer. It was not.

4th question. Who furnished it?

Answer. I decline to answer. To the best of my belief, it was allowed to be published from patriotic motives and to promote the public interests. I regarded and still regard the publication proper. I do not consider myself bound to declare the source whence I obtained said paper.

5th question. Was the President's message and documents published and promised to be published in the Herald since the first publication obtained in the same way?

Answer. I adopt my third answer above given as the answer to this question, so far as I know or believe. Further I decline answering, because I cannot specify the papers Mr. Bennett intends to publish.

6th question. Were any of the papers in question obtained in any wise from any person who obtained them from any Senator or officer of the Senate or any person connected with the printing, or, directly or indirectly, with the privilege or consent or connivance of such person?

Answer. Said papers were furnished by no Senator, officer, or printer of the Senate, or any third person connected with any member or officer of the Senate as clerk or member of his family.

Whereupon

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointment of the said persons, agreeably to their nominations respectively.

MONDAY, MARCH 27, 1848.

Mr. Bradbury, from the select committee, made the following report:

The select committee of the Senate appointed under the resolutions of the 23d and 24th instant, and instructed to inquire into the manner and means by which the pending treaty with Mexico and the message of the President and documents transmitted with the message have been made public, report:

That in obedience to the last resolution of the Senate, the committee called Mr. Nugent again before them and examined him further.

His additional examination is annexed, and the original is herewith returned. This testimony contains all the information we have obtained as to the manner and means by which the treaty and documents referred to in the resolutions of the Senate have been made public.

RE-EXAMINATION OF JOHN NUGENT BEFORE THE SELECT COMMITTEE OF THE SENATE.

1st interrogatory. In answering the last question heretofore propounded to you, you state that said papers were furnished by no Senator, officer, or printer of the Senate, or any third person connected with any member or officer of the Senate as clerk or member of his family, but you do not, in that answer, negative the idea that the papers may have been obtained from a third person connected with the printing performed for the Senate, or some one employed in the office of said printer. Will you now state whether you omitted to negative the idea that the papers were so obtained, to wit, from the printers who print confidential documents for the Senate, or some one connected with them or their office, because the truth would not permit you to give such a negative?

Answer. I have no hesitation in extending to the printers of the Senate (Messrs. Ritchie and Heiss) the negative embraced in my answer to the sixth (6th) question of my former examination, to wit, that said papers were not furnished by the printers of the Senate above mentioned, or by any third person connected with them as clerk or member of their family, in the same sense in which said former answer was conceived.

2d interrogatory. Can you absolve all persons connected officially with the State Department from any aid, directly or indirectly, in furnishing you, or in your obtaining, or knowledge by them, or any of them, as to how you obtained, the copy of said treaty or the amendments thereto, or the copies of said documents, published in the New York Herald?

Answer. I can make no answer that would, by implication, admit the right of the committee to place the head or any other officer of the State Department on trial in this investigation, or in anything growing or that might possibly grow out of it. I beg to be understood, in making this reply, as not intending to afford any conclusion or surmise of my inability to answer the question so as totally to exonerate the head and other officers of the State Department from any agency in furnishing the said papers. My objection to the question is that a direct answer, either in the affirmative or negative, would be an admission by me of the right of the committee to put a question the answer to which might, by possibility (so far as I conceive the committee to be at present informed), to inculcate the head or any other officer of the State Department, a right which, with all due respect to the committee, I am disposed to question.

JOHN NUGENT.

1848, March 25th, sworn to.

The report was read.

Mr. Cameron presented a letter from James Buchanan, Secretary of State, dated this day, and addressed to himself, stating that he had understood that suspicions were entertained that the State Department had furnished the copy of the confidential document containing the treaty with Mexico, the President's message, and the accompanying documents which appeared in the New York Herald; that it was due to himself to state that these suspicions were wholly unfounded, and that he and all the clerks in the Department of State cheerfully offer themselves to be examined on oath before the committee of the Senate upon the subject; and that it was due to the character of the Department that the Senate shall continue the investigation until every trace of suspicion against him and the gentleman who had custody of the copies sent to that Department shall be removed.

The Sergeant-at-Arms having made his return to the Vice-President on the warrant which was issued to that officer on the 29th instant, from which it appeared that he had now in custody the said John Nugent, he was directed by the Vice-President to bring him to the bar of the Senate.

The said John Nugent was then brought to the bar of the Senate, and presented a paper protesting against the institution of this proceeding by the Senate, and asking that it may be read before he was required to answer any interrogatories.

On motion, leave being granted, the paper was read; and

On motion by Mr. Johnson, of Maryland,

John Nugent was then brought to the bar of the Senate, and the oath required by the preceding resolution having been proposed to him by the Vice-President, he stated that he would take an oath to reply to the interrogatories with the exception of such as he could not answer.

On which he was again ordered to retire.

On motion by Mr. Johnson, of Maryland, that the following oath be administered to the witness by the Vice-President, to wit:

The evidence you shall give on the inquiry now pending before the Senate shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth: so help you God,

To the fourth interrogatory he made the following :

4. Answer. Those parts were substantially furnished in my own handwriting by me to the New York Herald.

To the fifth interrogatory he made the following :

To the sixth interrogatory he made the following :

6. Answer. I object to that question. Have I not a right to object to a question ?

The witness being informed by the Vice-President that he was not bound to criminate himself, proceeded :

I do not object to that question on the ground that it will criminate myself. I consider myself bound in honor not to answer it.

On motion by Mr. Johnson, of Maryland,

Ordered, That the Vice-President propound to John Nugent the following :

7. Interrogatory. In answer to the third interrogatory you have stated that you have furnished the papers therein referred to to the editor of the New York Herald. State from whom you received the said treaty with Mexico, with the amendments and the said portion of the proceedings of the Senate.

And the question being accordingly propounded to him, he said :

Before replying to that question, I desire to know from the Vice-President whether I may be allowed to withdraw the latter part of my answer to the last interrogatory, in these words, to wit : "I consider myself bound in honor not to answer it."

And John Nugent being ordered to withdraw,

And the question being accordingly propounded to him, he made the following :

8th answer. I cannot answer that question with accuracy, and therefore decline to answer, and for the same reason that I declined to answer the last question.

On motion by Mr. Johnson, of Maryland,

Ordered, That the Vice-President propound to John Nugent the following:

9th interrogatory. You say in answer to the last question that you decline to answer the same because you cannot answer it with accuracy; state why you cannot answer with accuracy; is it because you do not recollect the facts inquired of?

And the question being accordingly propounded to him, he made the following:

9. Answer. A portion of those facts I do not recollect with accuracy.

On motion by Mr. Johnson, of Maryland,

Ordered, That the Vice-President propound to John Nugent the following:

10th interrogatory. What portion of the facts do you not recollect with accuracy; is it as to the person from whom you obtained the papers or any of them referred to?

And the question being accordingly propounded to him, he made the following:

10. Answer. I wish this answer to apply to a portion of the facts; I also desire to ascertain whether this question refers to the treaty, amendments, and proceedings.

On being informed by the Vice-President that it did, he then answered: That it is too comprehensive to answer at one time.

It was determined in the negative.

John Nugent, on being recalled, was informed by the Vice President that his request to be allowed to withdraw his answers to the eighth, ninth, and tenth interrogatories was not granted.

Whereupon he requested to be permitted to modify those answers, and the said interrogatories having been at his request again read to him, he stated that if permitted he would desire to modify them, respectively, by changing them to read as follows:

8. Answer. I decline to answer that question.

9. Answer. Upon consulting my memory the principal portion of those facts I do recollect, but another portion I do not recollect, and therefore I desire to say, I decline to answer this question.

10. Answer. This question comprehends too many interrogatories to be answered in one reply.

John Nugent was then ordered to withdraw.

Mr. Johnson, of Maryland, submitted the following preamble and resolution for consideration :

Whereas John Nugent having been summoned, and having appeared at the bar of the Senate, and having been sworn as a witness, he answered the following interrogatories :

To the Senate of the United States:

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, April 12, 1848.

To the Senate of the United States:

I nominate for promotion by brevet in the Army of the United States the officers named in the accompanying list to the several grades annexed to their names, as proposed by the Secretary of War, for gallant and meritorious conduct.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, April 12, 1848.

WAR DEPARTMENT, April 11th, 1848.

SIR: I herewith present for your consideration a list of the officers of the Army who are recommended for brevet promotion on account of gallantry and distinguished conduct in the war with Mexico.

I deem it proper to offer a few remarks upon the views which have guided me in making these selections.

Brevet commissions are awarded as testimonials for individual acts of extraordinary bravery and gallantry in the face of the enemy, and highly meritorious services. To entitle an officer to this mark of distinction, I have considered that there should be some peculiar excellence, something more characteristic and discriminating than general good conduct.

I have found the task of selection delicate and difficult. In preparing the list I have relied for information upon the reports and statements of the generals and those in subordinate command under them.

So many brilliant achievements have characterized this war that many officers of all ranks have signalized their prowess on several occasions, and for each have merited particular notice and commendation; but it is believed that sound policy as well as established usage requires there should be some restriction in regard to the number of brevets to be bestowed on the same officer. Too great a difference between the lineal and brevet rank would, I apprehend, introduce confusion and disorder into the Army.

In the war of 1812 brevet promotion was not carried higher than two grades beyond the lineal rank; but this rule was not strictly adhered to in awarding brevets for service in Florida. I was at first strongly inclined to be governed in preparing the list to the practice of the war of 1812, but on examining the reports I found too many instances, bringing into view the brevets conferred before the commencement of the present war, wherein this rule would exclude from proper notice gallant conduct too conspicuous to be permitted to pass without this distinguishing testimonial of excellence. I have, in some few cases, recommended brevet promotions three grades above the actual lineal rank, but I have done so only where the conduct of the officer has been eminently worthy of distinguished consideration.

You will perceive, in the list now submitted, a considerable number of officers upon whom it is proposed to bestow the brevet rank of general. I deliberated for some time upon the expediency of conferring the brevet rank of general officer upon any one who did not hold the lineal or positive rank of colonel; but looking to the actual condition of the service, I became satisfied that such a rule would be too restrictive and operate unjustly in several cases. The colonels of several of the old regiments, on account of disabilities or other causes, have been prevented from being with their regiments during the whole war, and lieutenant-colonels, and even officers of a lower rank, have commanded these regiments. Moreover, some of these officers, having the brevet rank of full colonel, have commanded brigades in some of the most memorable engagements in the war, and while exercising this superior command have eminently distinguished themselves.

I should deem any rule which, under these circumstances, would exclude them from a promotion to a brevet rank in which they had not only exercised command and shown unquestionable capacity, but had merited high commendation, unjust to them. I have therefore presented for your consideration and approval several cases wherein it is recommended that brevet promotions to the grade of generals should be bestowed on officers whose present lineal or positive rank is below that of a full colonel.

Doubts have been heretofore entertained whether officers of the Pay Department had that kind of rank to which promotion by brevet could be properly applied; but the act of Congress of the 3d of March, 1847, has, I think, removed all question on the subject.

Their position in the Army rarely affords to this class of officers an opportunity for that kind of distinction which is appropriately rewarded by brevet promotion, but the conduct of some of them is deemed by me worthy of peculiar notice from the Government, and I have presented them for brevets.

Very respectfully, your ob't serv't,

W. L. MARCY,
Secretary of War.

To the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Whereas the Senate, sitting in Executive session on the 31st day of March, 1848, did order and declare that John Nugent who had been ordered and summoned to appear before the said Senate as a witness, and had been sworn as a witness, had by refusing to answer certain interrogatories to him propounded as such witness by and under the direction and authority of the Senate, committed a contempt of the said Senate, and did thereupon order and direct that the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate should take the said John Nugent into his custody, and him safely keep until the further order of the Senate; and whereas the President of the Senate, by the authority and direction of the Senate, did on the 31st day of March, in the year 1848, by a warrant under his hand, issued and directed to Robert Beale, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, commanding him to take the body of the said John Nugent into his custody, and him safely keep until the further order of the Senate; and whereas the said Robert Beale, Sergeant-at-Arms, did by virtue and authority of the said order of commitment and of the said warrant, so as aforesaid to him directed, take into his custody the body of the said John Nugent, and now holds him in such custody; and whereas the said John Nugent so remains in custody as aforesaid and has failed and omitted to purge himself of said contempt: It is therefore now ordered by the Senate that the said John Nugent be forthwith committed to the marshal of the District of Columbia, to be by him held in the jail of the said District, in the county of Washington, until the further order of the Senate in the premises, and that the President of the Senate do issue his warrant to the said Robert Beale, Sergeant-at-Arms as aforesaid, commanding him forthwith to deliver to the said marshal of the said District, or to his deputy or deputies, the body of the said John Nugent, so held by him as aforesaid, and commanding the said marshal, his deputy and deputies, to receive the body of the said John Nugent, and him safely and securely to hold in the jail of the said county of Washington until the further order of the Senate, and the Sergeant-at-Arms is further ordered to make return to the Senate of his proceedings in this behalf.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, May 30, 1848.

WASHINGTON, May 25, 1848.

SIR: Second Lieutenant Joseph J. Reynolds, of the 3d Artillery, was nominated by you for a brevet of 1st lieutenant for gallant and meritorious conduct in the battle of Monterey, Mexico, to date from the 23d of September, 1846. That nomination has lately been confirmed by the Senate. By the inclosed letter from that officer it appears that he was not in the battle of Monterey, having been ordered, soon after the battles of Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma, to conduct General La Vega to New Orleans; he was subsequently placed on duty at the North, and has not since returned to the Army. The brevet was intended for First Lieutenant John F. Reynolds, of the same regiment, who was in the battle of Monterey, and who has since been nominated and confirmed as brevet captain for gallant conduct in the battle of Buena Vista. I respectfully request that the Senate be asked to reconsider the confirmation of Second Lieutenant Joseph J. Reynolds, 3d Artillery, to be 1st lieutenant by brevet, in order that the nomination may be withdrawn should you deem that course proper.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

W. L. MARCY,
Secretary of War.

To the Senate of the United States:

I submit herewith, for such action as the Senate shall deem proper, a report of the Secretary of War, suggesting a discrepancy between the resolutions of the Senate of the 15th and the 27th ultimo, advising and consenting to certain appointments and promotions in the Army of the United States.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, July 5, 1848.

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, July 1, 1848.

SIR: I have the honor to submit herewith a report from the Adjutant-General of the Army, inviting attention to a difficulty arising from the terms of certain confirmations made by the resolutions of the Senate of the 15th and 27th ultimo, the former advising and consenting to the re-appointment of Captain Edward Deas, 4th Artillery, who had been dismissed the service, and the latter advising and consenting to the promotion of First Lieutenant Joseph Roberts to be captain, vice Deas, dismissed, and Second Lieutenant Joseph A. Brown to be first lieutenant, vice Roberts, promoted.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

W. L. MARCY,
Secretary of War.

To the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, June 29, 1848.

SIR: In a list of confirmations of regular promotions just received from the Senate, dated the 27th inst., it is observed under the heading "Fourth Regiment of Artillery" that First Lieutenant Joseph Roberts is confirmed as a captain, vice Deas, dismissed, and Second Lieutenant John A. Brown as first lieutenant, vice Roberts, promoted.

The President having decided to reinstate Captain Deas, nominated him for restoration, to the Senate, the 12th instant, withdrawing, as the records show, at the same time the names of Lieutenants Roberts and Brown. This nomination of Captain Deas was confirmed the 15th of June, and he has been commissioned accordingly. I respectfully bring this matter to your notice under the impression that as the resolutions of June 15th and June 27th conflict with each other, it may be the wish of the Senate to reconcile them by rescinding that portion of the latter which advises and consents to the promotions of Lieutenants Roberts and Brown.

Respectfully submitted.

R. JONES,
Adjutant-General.

Hon. W. L. MARCY,
Secretary of War.

To the Senate of the United States:

For the reasons mentioned in the accompanying letter of the Secretary of War, I ask that the date in the promotion of Captain W. J. Hardee, Second Dragoons, to be major by brevet for gallant and meritorious conduct in the affair at Madellin, Mexico, be changed to the 25th of March, 1847, the day on which the action occurred.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, July 7, 1848.

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, July 7, 1848.

SIR: Captain W. J. Hardee, 2d Dragoons, has been promoted to be major by brevet for gallant and meritorious conduct in the affair at Madellin, Mexico, to date from the 26th of March, 1847. As this affair took place on the 25th of that month, I respectfully recommend that the Senate be asked to change the date of Captain Hardee's brevet rank so as to correspond with the date of the action, to wit, the 25th of March, 1847. Brevets which have been conferred upon other officers in the same affair take the latter date.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

W. L. MARCY,
Secretary of War.

To the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

To the Senate of the United States :

I nominate the persons named in the accompanying communication for appointment in the military service of the United States, as proposed by the Secretary of War.

Fitzgerald, of the 9th Infantry, between their staff and regimental commissions (under the provisions of the act of June 18, 1846), having unavoidably failed to reach the War Department till months after the dates when they were severally entitled to promotion in their regiments, and an error having been made in the report to this office of the time when the death of Captain J. W. Anderson, 2d Infantry, occurred, the dates of certain promotions in the 2d Regiment of Artillery and in the 2d and 9th Regiments of Infantry, heretofore confirmed by the Senate, have proved to be inaccurate, and I therefore respectfully recommend that the proper corrections be now made.

In Major-General Scott's official report of the battle of Churubusco, Captain J. W. Anderson, 2d Infantry, is represented to have been killed in said action, August 2d, 1847. First Lieutenant Patrick and Second Lieutenant Murray were accordingly promoted to fill the vacancy thus created, taking rank from that date. It appears, however, by information only received June 23, that Captain Anderson was not killed, but mortally wounded, in the battle referred to, and did not die until August 22, 1847. Hence the necessity of altering the dates of Captain Patrick's and Lieutenant Murray's commissions.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, July 28, 1848.

To the Senate of the United States :

I have received from the Senate the "convention for the mutual delivery of criminals, fugitives from justice, in certain cases, concluded on the 29th of January, 1845, between the United States, on the one part, and Prussia and other states of the German Confederation, on the other part," with a copy of their resolution of the 21st of June last, advising and consenting to its ratification, with an amendment extending the period for the exchange of ratifications until the 28th of September, 1848.

I have taken this subject into serious and deliberate consideration, and regret that I cannot ratify this convention, in conformity with the advice of the Senate, without violating my convictions of duty. Having arrived at this conclusion, I deem it proper and respectful, considering the peculiar circumstances of the present case, and the intimate relations which the Constitution has established between the President and Senate, to make known to you the reasons which influence me to come to this determination.

On the 16th of December, 1845, I communicated this convention to the Senate for its consideration, at the same time stating my objections to the third article. I deemed this to be a more proper and respectful course towards the Senate, as well as towards Prussia and the other parties to it, than if I had withheld it and disapproved it altogether. Had the Senate concurred with me in opinion and rejected the third article, then the convention thus amended would have conformed to our treaties of extradition with Great Britain and France.

But the Senate did not act upon it within the period limited for the exchange of ratifications. From this I concluded that they had concurred with me in opinion in regard to the third article, and had, for this and other reasons, deemed it proper to take no proceedings upon the convention. After this date, therefore, I considered the affair as terminated.

Upon the presumption that this was the fact, new negotiations upon the subject were commenced, and several conferences were held between the Secretary of State and the Prussian minister. These resulted in a protocol signed at the Department of State on the 27th of April, 1847, in which the Secretary proposed either that the two Governments might agree to extend the time for the exchange of ratifications and thus revive the convention, provided the Prussian Government would previously intimate its consent to the omission of the third article, or he "expressed his willingness immediately to conclude with Mr. Gerolt a new convention, if he possessed the requisite powers from his Government, embracing all the provisions contained in that of the 29th January, 1845, with the exception of the third article. To this Mr. Gerolt observed that he had no powers to conclude such a convention, but would submit the propositions of Mr. Buchanan to the Prussian Government for further instructions."

Mr. Gerolt has never yet communicated in writing to the Department of State the answer of his Government to these propositions; but the Secretary of State, a few months after the date of the protocol, learned from him, in conversation, that they insisted upon the third article of the convention as a sine qua non. Thus the second negotiation had finally terminated by a disagreement between the parties, when more than a year afterwards, on the 21st June, 1848, the Senate took the original convention into consideration and ratified it, retaining the third article.

After the second negotiation with the Prussian Government, in which the objections to the third article were stated, as they had been previously in my message of the 16th December, 1845, a strong additional difficulty was interposed to the ratification of the convention; but I might overcome this difficulty if my objections to the third article had not grown stronger by further reflection. For a statement of them in detail I refer you to the accompanying memorandum prepared by the Secretary of State by my direction.

I cannot believe that the sovereign States of this Union, whose administration of justice would be almost exclusively affected by such a convention, will ever be satisfied with a treaty of extradition under which if a German subject should commit murder or any other high crime in New York or New Orleans, and could succeed in escaping to his own country, he would thereby be protected from trial and punishment under the jurisdiction of our State laws which he had violated. It is true, as has been stated, that the German states, acting upon a principle springing from the doctrine of perpetual allegiance, still assert the jurisdiction of trying and punishing their subjects for crimes committed in the United States or any other portion of the world. It must, however, be manifest that individuals throughout our extended country would rarely, if ever, follow criminals to Germany, with the necessary testimony, for the purpose of prosecuting them to conviction before German courts for crimes committed in the United States.

On the other hand, the Constitution and laws of the United States, as well as of the several States, would render it impossible that crimes committed by our citizens in Germany could be tried and punished in any portion of this Union.

But if no other reason existed for withholding my ratification from this treaty, the great change which has recently occurred in the organization of the Government of the German states would be sufficient. By the last advices we learn that the German Parliament, at Frankfurt, have already established a federal provisional executive for all the states of Germany; and have elected the Archduke John of Austria to be "Administrator of the Empire." One of the attributes of this executive is "to represent the Confederation in its relations with foreign nations, and to appoint diplomatic agents, ministers, and consuls." Indeed, our minister at Berlin has already suggested the propriety of his transfer to Frankfort. In case this convention with nineteen of the thirty-nine German states should be ratified, this could amount to nothing more than a proposition on the part of the Senate and President to these nineteen states who were originally parties to the convention to negotiate anew on the subject of extradition. In the mean time a central German Government has been provisionally established, which extinguishes the right of these separate parties to enter into negotiations with foreign Governments on subjects of several interest to the whole.

Admitting such a treaty as that which has been ratified by the Senate to be desirable, the obvious course would now be to negotiate with the General Government of Germany. A treaty concluded with it would embrace all the thirty-nine states of Germany, and its authority being co-extensive with the Empire, fugitives from justice found in any of these states would be surrendered up on the requisition of our minister at Frankfort. This would be more convenient and effectual than to address such separate requisitions to each of the nineteen German states with which the convention was concluded.

I communicate herewith, for the information of the Senate, copies of a dispatch from our minister at Berlin, and a communication from our consul at Darmstadt.

The Senate proceeded to consider the nomination of Stephen W. Kearny; and,

After debate,

On motion by Mr. Dix,

Ordered, That it be postponed to eleven o'clock to-morrow.

Mr. Dix submitted the following resolution for consideration :

Resolved, That the nomination of Stephen W. Kearny for the brevet rank of major-general be postponed till the first Mouday of December next, the Senate not having time in consequence of the press of business to examine with sufficient care the grounds on which said nomination is made.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 9, 1848.

Mr. Benton submitted the following resolution for consideration :

Resolved, That a Senator in his place (Mr. Benton) having, besides denying the truth of the grounds for which the brevet of major-general is proposed to be given to Brigadier-General Kearny, also impugned the honor of the said General Kearny in his conduct in California, and before a military court-martial in this city, in relation to his conduct in the prosecution of Lieutenant-Colonel Frémont, involving charges of malice, falsehood upon oath, fraudulent concealment of his design to arrest him with a view to try him without means of defense, or make him ask long delay while infamous charges were hanging over him, and the said Senator having alleged that the said General Kearny had, by virtue of his authority, brought the said Frémont home from the coast of the Pacific, a virtual prisoner to be tried here for offenses charged to have been committed there, the said General Kearny bringing his witnesses along with him, while leaving behind or interfering to keep away those who might be witnesses of Colonel Frémont, and who was wholly ignorant of the designs against him; and the said Senator having produced facts in support of all his allegations, which facts are neither answered nor contradicted, and ought to be answered by General Kearny before passed upon by the Senate, and it being the express repeatedly declared wish of the Senator making these allegations that General Kearny should have an opportunity to answer; considering all this it is the opinion of the Senate that this nomination be postponed with a view to a re-examination at the next session.

Resolved, That the President having nominated Brigadier-General Kearny for the brevet of major-general for gallantry at San Pasqual, and for meritorious conduct in New Mexico and California, and a Senator in his place having denied the truth of said gallantry and good conduct, and supported his denial by the production of facts, and having offered to produce more to show that the action of San Pasqual was a disastrous defeat by about equal numbers, through the mismanagement of the general, and that his report thereof is false, and that he was afterward besieged on the hill of San Bernardo four days by inferior numbers, and burnt his baggage, and saw Alexander Goday, whom he had sent out as a messenger, taken prisoner in his view, without an effort to protect or rescue him; and the same Senator having also alleged that the conduct of General Kearny both in New Mexico and California was unmeritorious, and produced facts in support of this allegation, and offered to produce more; and said allegations being neither answered nor denied; and it being the duty of the Senate, when the truth of the reasons for granting the honor of a brevet are denied, and as no brevet of honor ought to be untrue or bear an untruth on its face; and the Senator making all these allegations having moved the Senate for an open session for the discussion of his allegations, which was refused, and having himself notified a friend of General Kearny of his allegations against him that he might be telegraphed in time to defend himself, and having also given leave to all Senators to tell what he said, and avowed his own determination to tell it; and as there is not time at this session to investigate these allegations, and as it is not right for the Senate to vote upon any uncertainty in a matter so serious; and as it may be unjust to General Kearny to do so. as a confirmation of the nomination in the face of such allegations so supported and undenied could not be desirable or advantageous to General Kearny; therefore, it is the opinion of the Senate that this nomination be not finally acted on at this session, but laid over with a view to a re-examination at the next session, and that the President be informed accordingly by being furnished with a copy of this resolve.

Resolved, That Brigadier-General Kearny, in a letter to Commodore Stockton of the 16th of January, 1847, at Los Angeles, in California, threatening "collision" and "civil war," and the said letter having been immediately and officially communicated to the Government of the United States by Commodore Stockton, on which no action appears yet to have been taken by the Government; therefore, it is the opinion of the Senate that the honorable distinction of brevet major-general should not be bestowed on Brigadier-General Kearny until all the circumstances of said threat "collision" and "civil war" be properly inquired into and satisfactorily explained or found to be untrue.

The Senate proceeded to consider the nomination of Stephen W. Kearny; and

After debate,

On motion by Mr. Dix, that it be postponed for the purpose of considering a resolution submitted by him yesterday,

It was determined in the negative, { Yeas 17
Nays 30

On motion by Mr. Johnson, of Maryland,

The yeas and nays being desired by one-fifth of the Senators present, Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Allen, Atchison, Benton, Borland, Bradbury, Breese, Dix, Dodge, Felch, Fitzgerald, Hamlin, Houston, Johnson of Louisiana, Niles, Turney, Walker, Wescott.

Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Badger, Baldwin, Bell, Berrien, Butler, Calhoun, Clarke, Corwin, Davis of Massachusetts, Davis of Mississippi, Dayton, Dickinson, Downs, Green, Hannegan, Hunter, Johnson of Maryland, Johnson of Georgia, King, Mangum, Mason, Metcalfe, Miller, Pearce, Phelps, Spruance, Sturgeon, Upham, Yulee.

So the motion was rejected.

On the question, Will the Senate advise and consent to the promotion by brevet of Stephen W. Kearny?

It was determined in the affirmative, { Yeas 32

On motion by Mr. Benton,

The yeas and nays being desired by one-fifth of the Senators present, Those who voted in the affirmative are,

Messrs. Those who voted in the negative are,

Messrs. Allen, Benton, Bradbury, Dix, Dodge, Felch, Fitzgerald, Hamlin, Houston, Johnson of Louisiana, Niles, Tarney, Walker, Westcott.

So it was

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the promotion by brevet of Brigadier-General Stephen W. Kearny to be major-general by brevet for gallant and meritorious conduct in New Mexico and in California, to date from the battle of San Pasqual, the 6th of December, 1846, agreeably to the nomination.

Mr. Davis, of Mississippi, submitted the following resolution for consideration :

Whereas a Senator in his place has charged Brigadier-General Stephen W. Kearny with an intent to incite civil war in California and with other conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, both in California and before a court-martial assembled near Washington City, for the trial of Lieutenant-Colonel Fremont: Therefore Resolved, That the Senate do advise the President of the United States to order a court-martial to investigate these and all other charges which may be presented against the said General Stephen W. Kearny.

On motion by Mr. Mangum,

The Senate proceeded to consider the resolution reported by him from the Committee on Foreign Relations the 7th instant.

On motion by Mr. Allen to amend the same by striking out all after the word "Resolved" and inserting the following in lieu thereof:

That the President be requested to take such measures as he may deem most proper in order to ascertain the nature, the extent, and the value of the rights of navigation and of transit over portages reserved to the "Hudson's Bay Company and to all British subjects trading with the same" by the second article of the "treaty between the United States of America and Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland," concluded and signed at Washington on the 15th day of June, 1846; to ascertain, also, the nature, the extent, and the value of "the possessory rights of the Hudson's Bay Company and of all other British subjects" reserved by the third article of said treaty; to ascertain, also, the nature, extent, and value of "the farms, lands, and other property of every description belonging to the Puget's Sound Agricultural Company" reserved by the fourth article of said treaty; to ascertain, also, whether either of said companies or subjects have, since the ratification of said treaty, sold or transferred any of the rights or property so reserved by the second, third, and fourth articles of said treaty, and, if so, when, to whom, and to what extent such sales or transfers may have been made.

Resolved further, That the President be requested to lay before the Senate, as soon as practicable, any and all facts and information he may be thus enabled to collect.

On motion by Mr. Mangum,

Ordered, That the further consideration of the resolution and amendment be postponed until to-morrow, and that the same be printed in confidence for the use of the Senate.

Mr. Dix, from the Committee on Commerce, to whom were referred, the 12th May, the nomination of John D. Elliott, the 30th May that of Nathaniel Jackson, the 26th June that of Alfred H. P. Edwards, and on the 31st July that of Frederick V. B. Morris, reported.

Whereupon

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointment of the said persons, agreeably to their nominations respectively.

Mr. Dix, from the Committee on Commerce, to whom was referred, the 14th June, the nomination of Samuel S. Downs, reported.

The Senate proceeded to consider the nomination of Andrew J. Donelson; and

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to his appointment, agreeably to the nomination.

JAMES K. POLK.

WASHINGTON, August 14, 1848.

The messages were read.

The Senate, by unanimous consent, proceeded to consider the nominations of Francis H. Merriman, Daniel S. Macanley, James Shields, Kintzing Pritchette, William P. Bryant, James Turney, Peter H. Burnett, Isaac W. R. Bromley, Joseph L. Meek, and John Adair; and

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointment of the said persons, agreeably to their nominations respectively.

The Senate, by unanimous consent, proceeded to consider the nomination of Daniel J. Sutherland; and

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to his promotion by brevet, agreeably to the nomination.

On motion by Mr. Davis, of Mississippi, that the Senate proceed to consider the nomination of James D. Graham,

Mr. Benton objected; which, under the rules of the Senate, precludes its consideration to-day.

Mr. Benton submitted the following resolutions for consideration:

Resolved, That the nomination of Major Graham, of the Topographical Corps, for the brevet of lieutenant-colonel for valuable services in running the northeastern boundary line, is a nomination for a cause not recognized by the laws authorizing the grant of military brevets.

Resolved, That the nomination of said Graham ought to be rejected, for conduct unbecoming an officer, a gentleman, and unbecoming a judge on a court-martial, in this, that the said Graham, having malice and envy against the then Lieutenant-Colonel Frémont, and having spoken injuriously against him, and being therefore unfit to sit upon the trial of the said Frémont, did nevertheless sit as one of the judges, and did take a lead in all proceedings to his prejudice. Also in this, that the said Graham, being one of the judges aforesaid, is suspected of communicating with the prosecutor and leading witness (General Kearny) during the trial on the subject-matter before the court, and in the character of friend to Kearny. Also in this, that he was privy to an attempt on the part of Kearny to obtain an interview with Commodore Stockton (the leading witness for Colonel Frémont) before he was examined, in order to prevent a contradiction of Kearny's testimony on the point of supremacy of command in California in the expedition from San Diego to Los Angeles—an attempt in which the purpose failed, though the interview was obtained. Also in this, that the said Graham was privy to the fact, and consenting to it, that Kearny, at the conclusion of the trial, and when all the testimony was closed, drew up his own questions for his own interrogation, and his own answers, contradicting other witnesses on points on which he and they had all been fully examined, in violation of the laws of evidence, in contempt of all justice and decency, and in fraud of the court's own decision (correctly made on objection, that a witness can only be reintroduced and be re-examined on new matter introduced by the opposite party), falsely assuming as the questions of the court the questions of said Kearny to himself (when excluded by the decision and not allowed to be put as questions by the judge-advocate), putting the same as the court's own questions, in which character they were put and answered, and the answers recorded as evidence; in all which scandalous doings the said Graham was an active agent with other members, always excepting General Brooke, Colonel Hunt, Colonel Taylor, and Major Baker. Also in this, that he, the said Graham, as a member of the court, joined in giving a false verdict on the eleven specifications on the mutiny charge, and a verdict against evidence in the specifications under the charge of disobedience of orders, and a verdict without evidence on the charge for conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline. Also in this, that said Graham, as a member of said court, joined with other members to suppress the testimony in favor of Colonel Frémont (and that repeatedly and as a common thing) on false grounds, as for irrelevancy when it was relevant, for immateriality when it was material, and for being collateral when it was not; and all under such flagrant circumstances as to take away the plea of ignorance. Also, as a member of said court (always excepting the four members above named, and also excepting the judge-advocate), the said Graham was unjust during the trial, and joined in false and malicious remarks, superadded to the sentence of dismissal, and inserted in the record, calculated to prejudice the President (who was to approve or disapprove the proceedings) against Colonel Frémont, and also to prejudice the public mind against him. Also that the conduct of said Graham during the whole trial of Lieutenant-Colonel Frémont was unbecoming an officer and a gentleman and unbecoming a judge.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be served on the said Major Graham, and if anything therein alleged be denied by him, that a committee be appointed to take testimony as to the truth of the facts.

Resolved, That the President be requested to inform the Senate whether any military order or order for service in the field has been given to Major Graham, of the Topographical Corps, during the war with Mexico, and whether the said Graham complied with said order; and, if not, for what reason he failed to comply with said order or was excused from compliance. Also, whether the said Graham performed any service in the field during the war.

Mr. Dix, from the Committee on Commerce, to whom was referred, the 28th of July, the nomination of James M. Newell, reported.

Whereupon

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to his appointment, agreeably to the nomination.

Mr. Yulee, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, to whom were referred, the 11th instant, the nominations of John H. C. Coffin, A. G. Pendleton, Mordecai Yarnall, William B. Benedict, Mark H. Beecher, Henry H. Lockwood, William Flye, William Chauvenet, James Major, Joseph S. Hubbard, Ruel Keith, Arsène N. Girault, and John Parrott, reported.

Whereupon

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointment of the said persons, agreeably to their nominations respectively.

On motion by Mr. Dix,

The Senate proceeded to consider the nomination of E. S. Offley; and Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to his appointment, agreeably to the nomination.

Mr. Butler submitted the following resolution for consideration:

Whereas certain resolutions on file among the executive files of the Senate have been published in the New York Herald of the 11th instant, it is

Resolved, That the Senate proceed forthwith to inquire and determine upon the course which it may be proper to pursue for the maintenance of their rules and privileges should it be made to appear that they have been violated.

The following proceedings of January 6, 1848, were omitted in the Journal:

Mr. Cass, from the Committee on Military Affairs, to whom were referred, the 4th instant, the nominations of Jefferson H. Nones and others, to fill vacancies in the Army of the United States (except Thomas O. Davis), reported.

Whereupon,

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointment of the said persons agreeably to their nominations, respectively.

Mr. Ashley, from the Committee on the Judiciary, to whom were referred, the 22d December, the nominations of Ransom H. Gillett, George W. Clinton, Josiah Minot, Thomas M. Griffin, and James H. Cocke, reported.

Whereupon,

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointment of the said persons agreeably to their nominations, respectively.

Mr. Ashley, from the Committee on the Judiciary, to whom were referred, the 22d December, the nomination of Arnold Plummer, and the 3d instant the nominations of Wm. H. Rogers, George M. Keim, Edmund Christian, and James Points, reported.

On motion by Mr. Clayton,

The Senate proceeded, by unanimous consent, to consider the nomination of Wm. H. Rogers; and

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to his appointment agreeably to the nomination.

On motion by Mr. Cameron,

The Senate proceeded, by unanimous consent, to consider the nominations of Arnold Plummer, George M. Keim, Edmund Christian, and James Points; and

Resolved, That the Senate advise and consent to the appointment of the said persons agreeably to their nominations, respectively.
